

SEEK NEW CONTACT WITH KIDNAPER

ROMANCE ENDS

Romance that lasted only nine days was the theme of a real domestic drama unfolded for Hollywood by David Gould, dance director, in a suit for annulment of his marriage to pretty Frances Paxton. He says the blond screen actress refused to make a home for him. Her version is: "We just agreed to disagree."

LEGION CHIEF VISITOR HERE

Unheralded and unannounced, Harry W. Colmery, national commander of the American Legion, whose home is in Topeka, Kan., and Mrs. Colmery came to Santa Ana yesterday morning and attended services at the First Presbyterian church.

Cousin of Pastor Colmery, who is a cousin of the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the church, told the Rev. Mr. McFarland and Mrs. McFarland that he had not been sure he could make the trip and visit to this city until the last minute.

After the services, Colmery, who came directly from Los Angeles, where he made a series of talks last week, and his wife visited at the McFarland home for a short time and then left for a dinner engagement in Upland.

Colmery is making a tour of the Pacific coast in the interests of the Legion, and seeking co-operation of all Southern California veterans in a three-point program.

Program Outlined
This program was outlined as follows:
Buildings to accommodate at least 11,000 additional hospital beds.

Increased share in surgical and nursing facilities for veterans.

Co-operation between the Legion and Veterans' administration facilities throughout the country.

Hundreds of veterans from Santa Ana and the surrounding district are expected to hear Commander Colmery in a talk at 6:30 p. m. today at Riverside.

FIRST SPAT FOR ELAINE, BARRYMORE

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Elaine Barrie, Brooklyn school-girl, who married John Barrymore after chasing him across the country, today admitted she had her first spat with the middle-aged actor but denied they were separated.

The girl reported she had not seen the actor since New Year's even when he stalked out of a Hollywood night club in typical Barrymore style.

New Deal Congress To Meet On Tuesday

PROGRAM OF LAWMAKERS IS OUTLINED

Trend Toward Revision of Present Laws Indicated By Legislators

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—(UP)—The third New Deal congress convenes tomorrow to act on a legislative program designed to bolster America's economic and social progress at home and freedom from wars abroad.

Program Outlined
Upon an administration spurred by a resounding vote of confidence in November will fall the task of uniting and holding unprecedented congressional majorities behind a program described by New Dealers as centering on:

1. Improvement of the living and working conditions of the nation's masses.
 2. Continuance of national recovery and provisions against future economic disaster.
 3. Safeguarding America against "the next world war."
- The work of the 75th congress may be less spectacular but more vital to the national economy and international position of the United States than any session in recent years.

Trend Toward Revision
Generally, in the opinion of veteran legislators, the trend will be toward revision, consolidation and strengthening of experimental steps taken in the first Roosevelt administration.

Budget balancing, neutrality and maximum hours-minimum wages legislation stand out as the high points which may influence the course of the nation for many years. And behind these trail a host of other problems—relief, taxes, farm legislation, war debts—which will stir many controversies on Capitol Hill in the next six months.

FAIR DISTRICT OWES $113,030
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 4.—(UP)—A state audit of the financial condition of the 22nd District Agricultural association, San Diego county, revealed liabilities of $113,030, with current assets of only $9488, Finance Director Arlin E. Stockburger revealed today.

$40,000 From State
The district will receive $40,000 from the state within a few days, and that added to the $60,000 it will receive from the Del Mar Turf club when that organization receives a permit to conduct races on the district's track will serve to pay the deficit.

Possibility that the liabilities may be increased by $56,499.75 arose when it was determined that the state advanced that amount a year ago on the basis of an affidavit that the district had paid out $38,803 on premiums. Later, it developed no premiums had been paid.

"There is a question whether the district was entitled to that $56,499," Stockburger said. "We will seek an opinion from the attorney general. If not entitled to it, the district will have to repay the state that amount from future revenue."

HOLLYWOOD FILM ACTOR ENDS LIFE

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 4.—(UP)—The widow of Ross Alexander, screen actor, today was reported stricken by a coroner's informant report said the actor had committed suicide and no inquest was contemplated.

Alexander died in the loft of a barn on his ranch late Saturday night, apparently having shot and killed himself with a .22 caliber revolver.

RE-ELECTED

Majority Leader Joseph Robinson of Arkansas was re-elected at a Democratic caucus held today.

RAYBURN LEADS IN HOUSE FIGHT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—(UP)—House Democrats selected Rep. Sam Rayburn, D. Texas, as majority floor leader today, ending a bitter pre-congressional fight which threatened to split the huge Democratic majority.

BULLETINS
WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—(UP)—House Democrats selected Rep. Sam Rayburn, D. Texas, as majority floor leader today, ending a bitter pre-congressional fight which threatened to split the huge Democratic majority.

Simultaneously Rep. John J. O'Connor, D. N. Y., Rayburn's opponent, directed a charge of "treason" at Rep. Thomas Cullen, D. N. Y.

Cullen, titular leader of the New York Tammany delegation, has decided to second the nomination of Rayburn for leader, it was announced. To this O'Connor directed a reply to the entire party membership urging them not to "be concerned with the report of treason in my own delegation in New York."

"Meanwhile the Republican house membership caucused with 30 members of the minority party voting unanimously to re-elect Rep. Bertrand Snell as party leader and as candidate for speaker against Democratic Speaker William B. Bankhead.

The caucuses were necessary preliminaries to organization of party machinery before the 75th session of congress meets tomorrow.

On the senate side about 60 senators attended the Democratic caucus which re-elected Majority Leader Joseph Robinson of Arkansas. Senator Hugo Black, D. Ala., was elected secretary and Sen. J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois was elected party whip. For the first time Robinson was authorized to appoint an assistant whip which Lewis had requested.

LARGER U. S. NAVY AND ARMY URGED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Neutrality legislation will be worthless unless "backed up by an efficient and adequate armed force," the Army and Navy Journal, publication devoted to activities of the military services, contended today in an open letter to congress.

The letter, inserted as a paid advertisement in Washington newspapers, said "only a strong nation can be neutral," and proposed changes in the enlistment, pay and promotion policies of the military forces.

"Aggression refrains from attack upon strength," the letter said. "Had the Kaiser's war lords considered us ready for battle, the submarine campaign which provoked our entrance into the World War never would have been inaugurated."

Film Attendance Gains During Year

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Motion picture attendance in 1936 established a new record high of 4,180,000,000, a survey by Poor's Industry and Investment surveys said today. This was 12 per cent greater than in 1935.

Gov. Murphy Acts To End Auto Strike

FLINT, Mich., Jan. 4.—(UP)—Gov. Frank Murphy entered the automobile labor crisis as a mediator today while officials of the United Automobile Workers' union sought hearing on an injunction barring their members from occupying two plants of the Fisher Body corporation, General Motors subsidiary.

Confers With Martin
The governor, arriving at the capitol in Lansing by train from Detroit, announced he had conferred with Homer Martin, international president of U. A. W. A., and other union officials en route, and he definitely had decided to enter the controversy between the infant C.I.O. union and the world's largest manufacturer of motor cars.

"There is going to be peace and order," the governor said. "There is not going to be any violence. The days of force and violence in connection with labor disputes have passed in the United States. "Any government action will be toward adjudication of differences between workers and employers and my position will be one of perfect neutrality with my primary interest that of the general public."

Ten Plants Closed
Ten plants of General Motors are closed by strikes, laying off an estimated 37,000 employees. Attorneys for the vast corporation here studied an injunction issued Saturday restraining 500 men from occupying plants 1 and 2 of the Fisher Body corporation.

PICKETS AT CLEVELAND PLANT, POLICE CLASH
CLEVELAND, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Pickets at the vast strike-closed Fisher Body company plant clashed today with police.

Police Lieut. Peter Kekik was knocked down and mauled by a group of 75 men who sought to prevent Lincoln R. Scaff, plant manager, from entering the building.

CONFERENCE ON STRIKE SLATED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins will confer with President Roosevelt concerning the Pacific coast maritime strike, Assistant Labor Secretary Edward F. McGrady said today.

McGrady, back in Washington after many weeks on the Pacific coast seeking to arbitrate the bitter maritime dispute, said he would not return to the west until the situation has been canvassed by President Roosevelt and Miss Perkins.

UNIONS REFUSE TO UNLOAD ARGENTINE CORN

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 4.—(UP)—The joint strike committee, representing seven maritime unions, voted today a request of live-stock interests to unload 32,000 tons of Argentine corn from seven strike-bound vessels in Los Angeles harbor.

The question of unloading corn beans from two other vessels was shelved. Two unions, the marine engineers and the marine wireless operators, voted in favor of unloading the corn.

CAUSE OF POPE'S ILLNESS OUTLINED

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 4.—(UP)—The first official bulletin on Pope Pius' condition was issued today, announcing that both legs were affected with arterio-sclerosis.

There is reason, however, to hope for gradual recovery, although the pope's heart condition "advises certain prudence," the bulletin added.

The bulletin summarized the pope's illness during the past month, and added that prudence was necessary because of the "nature of the illness and the age of the patient."

The fundamental cause of his "holiness' illness has been a "process of diffused arterio-sclerosis with myocardial localization and subsequent disturbance of the heart rhythm," the bulletin continued.

LEGISLATORS CONVENE IN SACRAMENTO

William Mosley Jones Is Named Assembly Speaker; Rich Re-elected

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Faced with an administration admonition against the levying of new taxes or the increasing of state expenses, California's 52nd legislature convened at noon today for a session expected to be marked by partisan fights and the adoption of liberal measures.

Twenty-three new members acquainted themselves with the assembly chamber, while 12 new faces appeared in the senate as the two houses gathered for the opening day's routine of organization.

Democrats for the first time in decades held the power of a majority in the lower house, outnumbering Republicans 47 to 33. Republicans maintained their leadership in the senate, although their majority was trimmed 25 to 15.

Gov. Frank F. Merriam did not prepare an opening message, preferring to wait until his budget is ready for submission sometime before January 15.

He told individual legislators who called on him, however, that the state needed no new taxes or any change in the tax setup; that he wanted no increases in governmental costs; that he was interested primarily in holding down the cost of government, making certain that social legislation was adequate, improving facilities at state institutions and developing tidal land.

WPA PROGRAM STARTED TODAY

Coincident with the opening of school today, Orange county's WPA Recreational project got under way with 112 people, listed as playground instructors, piano teachers and administrative employees at work.

According to Truscott Lindsay, Orange county supervisor in charge of the program, playgrounds were opened in 15 communities. Lindsay said that more communities would open their playground projects during the week and that additional instructors would be added to the project daily until 150 people are employed.

Under the present program 13 playgrounds opened today at Santa Ana schools. These playgrounds Lindsay said that under the new program there will be a man and woman on each playground with ratings of senior leader. From time to time they will have, as assistant junior instructors who will be shifted from one playground to another until they have gained sufficient experience to qualify as senior leaders.

R. R. Russick, former supervisor for Orange county, has been named district supervisor in charge of all recreational projects in both Orange and San Diego counties. Lindsay has been named to succeed Russick, and in addition to having direct charge of the project in Orange county, under F. P. Jayne, will supervise all playgrounds in Santa Ana and Orange. He will be assisted by two supervisors, Miss Josephine Derico, in charge of the northern district of the county and Mrs. Henriette Stowell, of San Clemente, who will have charge of playgrounds in the southern section of the county.

PLEADS GUILTY TO EXTORTION CHARGE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 4.—(UP)—James F. Hall, 20-year-old seagoing troubadour, threw himself on the mercy of the court today when he pleaded guilty before Federal Judge Albert Lee Stephens on a charge of attempting to extort $5000 from Ginger Rogers, red-haired film star.

Judge Stephens ordered the young sailor returned to court Wednesday morning for sentencing. Hall previously had pleaded not guilty but changed his mind under urgings of his mother, Mrs. A. B. Hall of Longview, Tex.

AS 'SITDOWNS' CLOSED PLANTS

Typical of the sitdown strikes paralyzing production in plants stretching halfway across the continent, leading to a showdown with the gigantic General Motors corporation, is this scene in the huge Fisher Body plant in Cleveland, O., where 2000 suddenly ceased work. Apparently unworried over the outcome, the employees play cards and read to while away the time as they await a decision.

BRITAIN MAKES COURT REJECTS SHIP PROTEST APPEAL ON TAX

LONDON, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Great Britain protested strongly to the Spanish nationalist government today against attacks on two British steamships. A spokesman said the government intended to reserve its own navy for authority to take any action as regards the rights of British ships.

Watch Developments
The spokesman confessed "anxiety" regarding Germany's policy of retaliatory seizures of Spanish Loyalist shipping and added that the government was watching developments closely.

This anxiety was increased, it was learned, when British authorities received confirmation of reports that approximately 4000 Italians landed at Cadiz January 1 from the transport Lombardina—presumably to "volunteer" on the nationalist side in the civil war.

British in Protest
Sir Henry Chilton, British ambassador to Spain, was ordered to protest against an attack on the British steamship Blackhill, and it was announced he protested vigorously. It was intimated an apology was expected.

At the same time, a British destroyer reached Cadiz and protested direct to local Nationalist authorities against the halting of the British steamship Etrich by Nationalist trawlers.

The destroyer captain demanded that the Nationalist authorities prevent a recurrence of such incidents.

SPANISH FREIGHTER CAPTURED BY CRUISER

SANTANDER, Spain, Jan. 4.—(UP)—A Spanish coastal freighter and its captor, a grim German cruiser, steamed together off the coast.

New Board For Women's Prison
BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 4.—(UP)—A board of trustees comprised principally of women today took charge of the California Institution for Women at Tehachapi, where the state's female prisoners now are confined.

Mrs. Rose B. Wallace, Alhambra, heads the board, which is comprised of Mrs. Edward Gillis, of Princeton; Mrs. Anna G. Law, of Anaheim; and Judge T. N. Harvey, of Bakersfield.

The board was created in 1929 but it lacked duties and authority until an enabling act, approved by the voters in an amendment in the last general election, became effective.

Townsend Weekly Bans Donations

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—(UP)—The Townsend National weekly, official publication of the recovery plan organization, will assume responsibility for financing and maintaining national headquarters, Dr. Francis Townsend, founder of the organization, said today. Beginning January 11, the national headquarters will accept no more donations, contributions or quotas from members or sectional clubs.

FOURTH AD INSERTED IN PAPER TODAY

Restraint of Activities of Police Officers Sought By Dr. Mattson

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 4.—(UP)—Dr. W. W. Mattson, whose son, Charles, is being held for $28,000 ransom, strongly appealed to law enforcement agencies to give the kidnaper "free opportunity" to return the boy.

First Statement
In his first public statement since the kidnapping, Dr. Mattson indirectly criticized federal agents and local authorities for making it difficult to contact the kidnaper.

At the same time he inserted a fourth classified advertisement in the Seattle Times giving open admission that previous contacts had been made, and appealing to the kidnaper to contact him again.

"My son was kidnapped a week ago Sunday night," Dr. Mattson said in a formal statement issued to all newspapers.

Appeals to All Agencies
"He has not been returned. I desire to appeal to all law enforcement agencies to abstain from any action which would in any manner interfere with the full and free opportunity which I wish the kidnaper to have to return the child.

"I am sensible of the sympathy and desire to assist me of law enforcement agencies and feel certain that my request for the restraint of their activities will be accepted by them with a full realization of the possibilities involved in their continued operation.

"As a father I desire the safe return of my son. I wish that all efforts might be first concentrated upon that issue."

Fourth Classified Ad
The fourth classified ad, containing new information from the first three, read:
"Mable—We have received your communications. Police have not intercepted them. Channels are entirely clear. Your instruction will be followed. We are ready—Ann."

The first ad had said merely that the family was ready. The third said "everything entirely in accordance with your desires."

The ad revealed officially for the first time that the Mattson family had made two or more contacts with the kidnaper.

Father Worn, Tired
Dr. Mattson summoned newspapermen to his office and handed the typewritten statement to each. His son, William Jr., 16, was in an outer office. The doctor refused to amplify the statement verbally or to pose for photographs. He appeared worn and tired.

His eyes were bloodshot. The wording of the statement indicated he may be dissatisfied with the federal agents' practice of tapping all telephone calls, intercepting mail and checking all clues.

Earlier, an intensive manhunt was launched in the Shelton area after a man ordered a lumber mill watchman to notify Dr. Mattson that "everything is well."

The man, who approached E. R. Grubbe, the watchman, last night, appeared this afternoon to have eluded a wide state patrol blockade quickly thrown around the Shelton area. More than a score of radio equipped patrol cars still circled in the district this afternoon and blocked all egress.

A government dispatch from Gijon said the insurgent forces had evacuated Grado after a bloody battle in which hundreds were killed or wounded.

20 KILLED IN RAID ON MADRID

MADRID, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Fifteen insurgent airplanes attacked Madrid twice today, killing at least 20 persons in the heart of the city.

The first attack early in the morning was accompanied by artillery fire. Shrapnel shells and bombs burst along the Gran Via, Madrid's Broadway, as pedestrians fled for cover.

All available anti-aircraft batteries opened fire. The bombers flew back and forth over the University City area, dropping bombs on the government trenches.

About noon they returned with fresh loads of bombs and made straight for the center of the city. One bomb fell in the neutral zone, two blocks from the United States embassy, causing numerous casualties.

HOLD SUSPECT IN RESORT ROBBERY

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Jan. 4.—(UP)—With both arms shattered by bullets, according to doctors, and badly infected, Dock Hamilton, 46, was held in the county hospital prison ward today as a suspect in the attempted robbery of the Murietta Hot Springs resort New Year's morning.

Hamilton, arrested in a San Bernardino hotel, insisted he was not the hand who shot two employees of the resort and was himself wounded when one of them wrested the gun away.

He claims his arms were injured in an automobile accident.

ACTIVITIES AT Y.M.C.A. AGAIN IN FULL SWING

All general activities of the Y.M.C.A. of Santa Ana were again in full swing this week following a temporary lull during the Christmas holidays. Ralph C. Smedley, general secretary of the institution, announced this morning.

The women's gymnasium and swimming classes will resume work at 9 a. m. Tuesday, and again at the same time Thursday. The evening swimming class for women, under the leadership of Thelma Patton, will convene at 7 p. m. Tuesday and at the same time Thursday evening. Miss Patton will welcome new pupils to the classes at this time.

The "Body Builders" class for boys, conducted by D. H. Tibbals, will meet at 4 p. m. Tuesday.

Smedley will conduct his usual class in "chairmanship" Wednesday evening, and will take up the study of parliamentary practice in connection with the public speech

PROBLEM OF WEALTH TO BE SUBJECT OF FORUM DEBATE

Question of a man's right to become a millionaire if he has the ability or good fortune to do so, and of his right to keep the million, the five million, or possibly the 10 or 20 million, if he wants to, will be aired tomorrow night at the junior college building, 917 North Main street, when the Forum for Political and Economic Education hears Attorney W. Maxwell Burke, affirmative, and Paul Alberts, negative, debate the subject, "Resolved, That the Amount an Individual Could Own Should Be Limited." That was the announcement today of James Anderson, program chairman.

Alberts, preparing for a career as a college professor a few years ago, met with accident, and was delayed in his preparation but the accident did give him unlimited time for reading and studying. Anderson pointed out, declaring the negative speaker to be well-read upon his subject. Attorney Burke has given a great deal of time to the study of social problems.

"While most people believe there should be a limit to the amount of wealth an individual should be permitted to have, when it comes

TWO NEW SUPERVISORS WILL TAKE UP DUTIES TOMORROW

Who's who in the county's official family, a question that has kept the courthouse on its toes for several weeks, is expected to be answered tomorrow when the county board of supervisors holds its first 1937 session, with two new members, Steele Finley, of Santa Ana, and Harry D. Riley, of Anaheim, in their seats.

Appointments of the heads of various county departments usually are made at the first meeting of the new board, after it organizes by electing a chairman and naming board committees.

Political gossip since the board's completion changed at last November's election has buzzed about the heads of various appointive officials.

Supervisor N. E. West, long the "lone wolf" of the board, is understood to have prospective support of Supervisor Finley, who replaced W. C. Jerome in the first district. In West's expected move to unseat one or more department heads.

Chairman John Mitchell, who, incidentally, probably will not be chairman after tomorrow, may even join West and Finley in at least work. One hour will be devoted to parliamentary practice, and another to practice of speech.

Smedley said new members would be welcome to this class, both for parliamentary law and public speaking. This group meets in the east lobby of the Y.M. every Wednesday evening and is free to all men and women.

ALBINO ELK SIGHTED
JACKSON, Wyo. (UP)—An albino elk, one of the rarest freaks in nature, is believed living in the Jackson Hole region near Wilson. TWO ACCIDENTS ARE REPORTED OVER WEEKEND

According to police and hospital records for the past week end, Orange county is off to a good start in efforts to keep its traffic accident record clean during 1937.

Only two accidents in which persons were injured and four or five minor accidents in which no one was injured, were reported officially to police.

Jesse P. Insko, 21, Route 1, Box 232, La Habra, reported to California highway officers he was driving along 101 highway between Fullerton and Imperial highway midnight of Sunday when he fell asleep at the wheel as he approached an "S" curve. The car was ditched, with injuries resulting to Insko and Betty La Mar, 21, 517 South Bluff street, La Habra.

About 2:25 a. m. yesterday, cars driven by Mrs. P. G. Morrison, 37, Fullerton, and Rudolph Pelzman, 22, Los Angeles, collided on Orange highway, 2 1/2 miles east of 101 highway, with injuries resulting to Billie Goodrich, 25, and Norman Griswold, 30, both Los Angeles, according to a report made to California Highway Officer Herman Lenz. The couple was taken to Anaheim sanitarium for treatment. The accident occurred as Mrs. Morrison was making a left turn, reports show.

An alleged hit-and-run driver, reported as "looking intoxicated," crashed his car into a parked car belonging to Mrs. A. L. Taylor, Venice, last evening in front of 1045 West Fifth. City police were seeking the man today.

DR. JOHNSTON WILL SPEAK AT Y.M.C.A.

"The Physiology of Middle Age" is the subject of an address that will be made at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Santa Ana Y.M.C.A. by Dr. Herbert A. Johnston, of Anaheim.

This will be the first of a series of lectures on "The Dangerous Age in Men," and will be open to all members and friends of the organization in Santa Ana and Orange county.

Ralph C. Smedley, general secretary of the Y.M., said this morning that hundreds of persons had voiced an interest in the plan to have the lecture course, which will be featured by the appearance of the best medical minds in the locality.

There will be six of the public meetings, and will be held on Tuesday of each week, excepting the evening of January 19, and will close with a lecture by Dr. Edward L. Russell of Santa Ana on February 16.

GIRL RESERVES TO HOLD PUBLIC FORUM

An unusually large attendance of members of the Y. W. C. A. Girl Reserves, the Hi-Y girls' organization and their friends, are expected to attend the public forum program that will be presented at 8 p. m. today at the Y. W. C. A. building.

Allen C. Blaisdell, director of the International House at Berkeley, will head the delegation of brilliant speakers who will talk to the group and discuss various subjects, Miss Mary A. Porter, secretary for the reserves, announced today.

120 BOY SCOUTS BACK HOME FROM CAMP; TWO FREEZE FEET

With two boys left behind because of badly frost-bitten hands and feet, the greatest adventure in history of Orange County Boy Scouts was climaxed early today with the return to the city of 120 of the 123 hikers who went into Ro-Ki-Li Camp high in the San Bernardino mountains a week ago last Saturday and who were hopelessly marooned there by more than a five-foot snowfall and near-zero weather.

Sustaining their high spirits with song and cheers, the main contingent of scouts arrived in Santa Ana in three buses at 1 a. m. today. They were met at scout headquarters by their parents and hurried home to recuperate from their harrowing experience of near-freezing temperatures, severe mountain storms that many times gained blizzard proportions.

The two boys, who were said to be suffering from considerable pain but not seriously affected by the cold, are Richard Starbuck, of Fullerton, and Royce Kaufman, of Newport Beach. This pair and Bud Foster, Santa Ana, one of the older group, who stayed to assist an expert camp caretaker, to look after the frost-bitten scouts, were left behind when the group started on foot on a 16-mile hike through more than 60 inches of snow on the levels from the scout camp to Igooes Camp.

"After having trekked for miles through the deep snow," Harrison White, county scout executive, who was among the last to leave the camp, told The Register this morning, "we were met by the big snow plow of San Bernardino county highway department, who treated us wonderfully and brought many supplies for the boys. Many of the boys rode this plow into Igooes, where we were met by the buses and supplies from Orange county."

White gave his account of the experience just before he and Milan Miller, local scoutmaster, left the city before noon to return to the camp to bring out Starbuck, Kaufman and Foster. They were unable to say how soon they would be able to get back to the city.

"There was nothing for me and the rest of the older group but to marvel at the courage and great spirit of everyone of the scouts. After we had gone through the worst of the return trip and had reached Igooes Camp, most of the boys said it was the best adventure they ever expected to have in their lives—and, of all things, declared they would turn right around and go through it again.

"It was a considerable worry, however, to the scout executives and leaders. Especially about Sunday morning when we hadn't received any definite word yet as to what arrangements anyone was making to come up and get the boys. Then, on top of this, we had reports there was to be another big snowstorm.

"We had had 66 inches of snow on the levels while we were up there, and when we got that new storm report Sunday, we held a hurried conference. Included in that parley was Clayton Ferrin, of Orange, Clyde Files, Johnny McBride, Art Hooker and George Bassett, all of Santa Ana, Howard Moore of Orange, Tom Devine, the scout cook from Garden Grove, and the rest of the scoutmasters and assistants.

"We decided to leave as quickly as possible, and by the time everything was ready to go, it was 1 p. m. Sunday. I suppose the boys did have a lot of fun—all except Starbuck and Kaufman, of course, and they couldn't help the fact that they were frost-bitten. They were left in expert care at a good cabin where one of the caretakers resides all the time during the winter. They likely will be in good shape by the time we get back up

SANTA ANA'S MISS LILES AT FARM BUREAU MEET IN NORTH

PAY LESS THAN AVERAGE TAX

The property owners of Santa Ana paid less than average-size taxes during 1936, according to an investigation of the tax rates of 301 cities, just completed by the Detroit Bureau of Governmental Research. The adjusted rate for Santa Ana, revised from the nominal figure for comparison purposes, was $17.40 for each $1000 worth of property.

In Santa Ana's population group, 30,000 to 50,000, the average adjusted rate was $27.50. Chelsea, Mass., occupied the high position with a rate of $43.40, while Steubenville, Ohio, was low with a rate of $11.20. Among all cities, large and small, the rate ranged from $47.26 in Union City, N. J., to Steubenville's record low.

The adjusted rates were computed by the Bureau to facilitate comparison, since some cities do not use the actual value of property as the legal basis of assessment. Santa Ana uses 40 per cent of the actual value.

The assessed value of all taxable property in Santa Ana in 1936 is set at $24,017,940. This represents $780 per capita as compared with $1196 for all cities of the same size group.

FINES PAID TO CITY COURT IN 1936 INCREASE

Santa Ana's city court in 1936, was more than $10,000 ahead of 1935 in collection of fines, Judge J. G. Mitchell's annual report revealed today. In every type of case handled by the city court, 1936 was ahead of 1935.

The comparison shows, as follows, for 1936 and 1935, respectively: traffic cases, 1436 and 650; liquor, 872 and 534; misdemeanors, 159 and 158; city ordinance, 1078 and 926; and total, 3543 and 2565. In 1936, $27,244.79 was collected and in 1935, $16,674.63.

Leaving out city ordinance violations, a percentage comparison shows: 1936, traffic violations, 53.2 per cent; liquor, 35.4, and misdemeanors, 6.4—1935, traffic, 40; liquor, 50.8, misdemeanors, 9.2.

Comparison of figures for December, 1936; November, 1936, and December, 1935, respectively, is as follows: traffic, 139, 119 and 59; liquor, 94, 101 and 68; misdemeanors, 17, 8 and 6; city ordinance, 114, 68 and 74; total, 364, 296 and 208. Fine payments received, respectively, were $2412.37; $2773.53, and $1985.50.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

The words of the Psalmist, "God is the Lord, which hath shewed us light," constituted the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "God" on Sunday in all Christian Science Churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

One of the Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon cited Paul's words to the Romans: "For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord."

The Lesson-Sermon included also this passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Eddy Baker: "When the evidence before the material senses yielded to spiritual sense, the apostle declared that nothing could alienate him from God, from the sweet sense and presence of Life and Truth."

TAKE WEIGHT OFF TIRED FEET

Less Fat The Easy Way—Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises.

If your feet and ankles feel tired and ache all over—because you are carrying too much fat—do something about it. Try the treatment that has helped millions to reduce excess weight.

There's a reason why so many people find dieting slow and often comes futile in reducing. The reason, doctors say, is often because a little gland is not working right.

All the blood in your body goes through this tiny gland sixteen times every day. If it doesn't pour into the blood stream about one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat. This fluid helps Nature to "burn up" excess food and fatty tissue in much the same way as a good "draft" acts in a furnace.

Now, physicians combat this condition by feeding this gland the substance it lacks—and millions of pounds of excess fat has been wiped out in this way.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same method used by doctors. So don't waste your time or money striving to reduce with starvation diets or back-breaking exercises. Start the Marmola treatment today that millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking. Don't wait—get a box of Marmola today from your druggist.

NON-EXPLOSIVE ETHER HAILED AS GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Development of a non-explosive ether by a middle-aged Los Angeles physician today was hailed by medical men as the most important contribution in the field of anesthetics in a half century.

The scientist, Dr. Garnet King, cautiously admitted his experiments in perfecting a non-explosive ether seemed successful and disclosed that his findings now were available to 2500 physicians for experimental trials.

Dr. King also disclosed that he and his wife used themselves as "guinea pigs" in preliminary tests of the anesthetic before they made it public to the medical profession.

"All I did was devise a method for pre-heating ether before it is drawn into the lungs of the patient," he said. "The procedure is based on a principle sought since 1876."

"Explosions now are impossible and there can be no ether-pneumonia or nausea after the operation. In the past, use of ether often was followed by complications more dangerous than the original illness."

Dr. King explained that ether is recognized as superior to any other type of anesthetic because it gave such a wide margin of surgical anesthesia.

The physician said he became determined to develop a successful method of administering ether after advisors and agents during the last year will be carefully checked at the parley, and many plans for the forthcoming year will be worked out in detail.

watching doctors operate on patients without any anesthetic during the World war.

He served as a stretcher bearer for the Royal British Medical corps during the war and saw duty in Mesopotamia and India.

After being shell-shocked in the war, Dr. King was discharged from a military hospital at Deolali, India, suffering from chronic malaria and amoebic dysentery.

Despite his poor health, he completed his medical education at the University of Physicians and Surgeons in Kansas City and then worked in hospitals on the Pacific coast.

Several years ago he was forced to give up active medical work because of recurrence of his wartime ailments.

Dr. King's device for pre-heating ether is a simple container which is enclosed in a hot-water jacket.

"It looks simple but it works," he said. "In one operation here a woman was under ether for more than two hours. Fifteen minutes after the operation she asked for something to read."

The physician said he had tried his anesthetic ideas on himself and his wife "about 30 times" before he was convinced he had found a method to administer the ether, that was safe and practical.

NELSON EDDY'S MOTHER HERE FOR CONCERT

By ELEANOR YOUNG ELLIOT

"How does it feel to be the mother of a genius?" was a question which the mother of that celebrated baritone, Nelson Eddy, found difficult to answer Saturday night.

Yes, his mother was in the audience at Santa Ana High school auditorium, where Eddy appeared in the first of a series of concert programs that will take him the length and breadth of the continent.

And of all the hundreds of people in the audience, she probably listened to this opening concert with the most critical appreciation.

"How does it feel to be the mother of a genius?" she repeated the question. "I cannot say. I only know that I still have to wonder if it is really true that it is my boy standing before all those people and singing like that. I still feel sometimes as though it were all a dream. And when the people like and enjoy him as they showed so plainly tonight, I am so proud and happy that it is my boy that is giving them all that pleasure."

She is a very charming little woman, this mother of an internationally famous artist. Rather slight and as blonde as is her distinguished son, she is unaffectedly proud of him, and delighted when he is met with such warm appreciation.

Mrs. Eddy was not the only proud and happy mother in Saturday night's audience, for Mrs. Paxson accompanied her son, Theodore Paxson, accompanist to Nelson Eddy. A beautiful woman, she was regal in black velvet with white ermine, and she too was a glow with the appreciation shown her gifted son. According to Mrs. Eddy, soloist and accompanist have worked together for a number of years. "This was their first concert work together this year she explained. "By the time they have got their season well started, their work together is so smooth and faultless that it is as though it were one instrument producing song and accompaniment. There is such perfect sympathy and musical understanding existing between them."

Funeral services for Mrs. Halber will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, from Todd and Reeves funeral chapel, Pomona. Burial will be in the Pomona cemetery.

Announcing Chandler's Policy of Modern Merchandising for 1937

Out with the old and in with the new. Old, obsolete merchandising methods must make way for up to date, modern ideas.

Chandler's have gone through a period of reorganization during 1936, and have emerged with some definite ideas for future performance. These plans are based upon sound merchandising principles.

FIRST—

Abolition of Store Wide and Periodical Sales

We are convinced that every customer should be offered the same PRICE ADVANTAGE. In other words, we do not ask more for merchandise in January than we intend to SELL it for in February. There will be no ASKING PRICE, only a selling price. Merchandise will always be marked at the lowest possible price.

SECOND—

No Seconds Will Be Offered for Sale

We will not buy undesirable merchandise at discount prices to be offered as BARGAINS. Our experience has been that factory CLOSE OUTS and JOB LOT merchandise is definitely undesirable.

THIRD—

Discontinued and Slow-Moving Merchandise

No buyer can be 100 per cent perfect in the selection of merchandise. Occasionally pieces will come into our store that will have to be disposed of at less than the actual market value.

This merchandise will be reduced in price and plainly marked to show the reason for the reduction. There will be no CLEARANCE SALES of store wide magnitude.

FOURTH—

We believe this plan to be sound and fair to all. Investigation and honest comparison will convince you that Chandler's prices are right. Quality furniture can be purchased at Chandler's at reasonable prices. Investigation will also prove that Chandler's regular prices will compare favorably with the usual so-called drastic sale prices.

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEW YORK, Jan. 4. — Most baseball managers model themselves after either John McGraw or Connie Mack.

Anybody ever associated with McGraw, and many who never were, mimic him. Managers and players developed by Mack run to him for advice when things are breaking badly.

"Connie could pull me out of it," remarked Al Simmons, when Samuel Stump had a strange hold on the once great hitter and was throwing him for a fall in 1935.

Frank Frisch, his foremost product, is the dead spit of McGraw on the field, but lacks Little Napoleon's ability as a mixer out of the batter's pit.

Capable managers see managerial ability just as the more intelligent players recognize it.

Bill Terry didn't hit it off well with McGraw, yet McGraw recommended Terry when he felt that it was time for him to step down. Terry had much of the McGrawian iron-handedness, but isn't half the personality of his illustrious predecessor in or out of uniform.

When the last championship class of Athletics bogged down a bit, Mack called in Mickey Cochran and Jimmy Dykes, just as he once summoned Edward Trowbridge Collins, Cochran and Dykes were graduated to be highly successful strategists, but they still seek the council of the old master when things go wrong.

Mack and Collins continue to put their heads together to the west, no doubt, of Thomas Austin Yawkey to whom the Philadelphia club sold what turned out to be so little for so much.

RICKEY HAD IDEAS

Branch Rickey was too far ahead of his athletes to be a first rate manager, but his theories are those of Rogers Hornsby and Bill McKechnie, who temper them with the straight-forwardness of McGraw.

"Bucky" Harris and Joe Cronin go back to Clark Griffith. Practically every manager pattern himself after someone he respected.

Joe McCarthy has tried to weld the best qualities of the leading guides into his scheme of things. That is one reason why at $35,000 a year he is the highest salaried major league director.

But the majority take after McGraw or Mack. There is Burleigh Grimes, for example. Old Whiskers spent but one season under McGraw but listen to the new Brooklyn boss:

"I believe that I can do more good running the team from the bench than from the coaching lines.

"I have never forgotten what John McGraw once said to me. He told me that if I ever got a job as manager in the major leagues I would be wise to stay off the coaching lines. I asked him why, and he said:

HE'S BALANCE WHEEL

"Things happen on the field which need the manager's attention while his club is batting.

"The pitcher may make a mistake, or an infielder or outfielder may make a play the wrong way.

"It is up to the manager to point out the mistake and to explain to the player who made it where he was wrong. If the manager goes to the coaching line he loses the opportunity to talk to certain players at the right moment. Hire capable coaches and stay on the bench when your team is taking its turn at bat."

"Until McGraw said that to me I believed that the manager should be on the coaching lines.

"If the manager stays on the bench, he can, during the time that his club is at bat, as McGraw said, discuss plays which were just made. If a certain player has made a mistake, the manager can tell him about it.

"When I was playing for McGraw he never went on the coaching lines, and I remember a lot of things he said to his players on the bench which helped them and also helped the Giants to win."

It adds up. McGraw added up. So does Mack. McGraw was an exact opposite of Mack in and out of baseball. But they were the two greatest managers in the business, and the molds were broken.

Kelley Scores Again

Larry Kelley, Yale's loquacious All-American end, was voted the outstanding football player in America by the nation's sports writers and given the Heisman trophy, awarded annually to the year's leading gridder. Here is the Eli wingman sitting behind the trophy after he had received it in New York.

Their offense bogging down through lack of practice, Tustin high school's varsity basketball team relied on its first half margin to outscore Chino, 24-15, on the Tiller's home floor Saturday night.

The Farmers held the Chino team to one point in the first half, and by scoring 10 for themselves were able to coast in.

Sam Francis, star Tiller center, and Ayala, of Chino, led the scoring with 7 points apiece. Monroy of Tustin, chalked up 6.

Sharpen up the Farmers' attack with tomorrow afternoon's contest with Orange on the Tiller's floor at 3:15. This one matches the intermediate and minor division winners in the recent Southern Counties tournament at Huntington Beach. Lineups:

COAST CHAMPS SEE AMERICA FIRST

Faced by the phenomenal Hank Luisetti, Stanford University's Pacific Coast Conference basketball champions of last season now are on a transcontinental trip, meeting the better college teams of the east and middle west. The Cardinals present the same lineup that prevailed on the golden slope a year ago. Dribbling into the camera, they are, left to right: Art Stoeven, center; Luisetti and Howell Turner, forwards; and Dinty Moore and Jack Calderwood, guards. Luisetti scored 416 points during the last campaign. Moore captains the squad. Stoeven is a cousin of Les Stoeven, the tennis star.

Cook Completes Don Grid Schedule With Santa Monica, 3-Day Trip To Stanford

Coach Bill Cook completed Santa Ana's 1937 junior college football schedule today by definitely signing pre-conference games with Santa Monica jays and the Stanford freshmen.

As published by The Register two weeks ago, the Don-Stanford conflict will be played in the Stanford stadium September 25 as a preliminary to the Stanford-Santa Clara varsity inaugural. Santa Ana has been guaranteed $604 to make the journey. Coach Cook said he would take north a full squad of 33. The team will travel by train, leaving Santa Ana Friday in a special car and returning Monday after spending Saturday night and Sunday in San Francisco. Their sleeping coach will be derailed in San Francisco Saturday night.

The Don-Santa Monica game will be played in the Municipal Bowl Friday night, October 1. Coach Curt Youel of Santa Monica has been holding this date open for Santa Ana and Coach Cook said he would close for the contest immediately.

This means that the Santa Ana-U.S.C. Frosh engagement is off unless some conflict in schedules later in the year prevents the Dons from meeting the U.C.L.A. yearlings. In that case Cook said it might be possible for Santa Ana to schedule the Tro-babes on the

Don't bye date, now assigned to the Bruin yearlings.

The schedule:
Sept. 17—Pasadena at Santa Ana.
Sept. 25—Santa Ana at Stanford.
Oct. 1—Santa Monica at Santa Ana.
Oct. 8—Santa Ana at San Bernardino.
Oct. 15—U.C.L.A. Frosh at Santa Ana.
Oct. 22—Santa Ana at Pomona.
Oct. 29—Riverside at Santa Ana.
Nov. 5—Chaffey at Ontario.
Nov. 12—Citrus at Santa Ana.
Nov. 25—Fullerton at Santa Ana.

VINES, PERRY DRAW $40,000

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Ellsworth Vines was established an 8-5 favorite today to defeat Fred Perry in the latter's debut as a professional tennis player at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night.

The Garden is virtually sold out of seats which were scaled from $1.10 to $9.00 and one of the promoters, Francis T. Hunter, said the "standing room only" sign would be out the night of the match.

More than 17,000 are expected to pay more than $40,000 to see the duel, surpassing by far the record tennis pro gate of $30,800 set by Vines and Bill Tilden two years ago.

Surrounded by millionaire trainers—with the proper drawing room technique—is little Tommy Griffin, a retiring sort of fellow who would pass far more easily for a minister than a shrewd horseman, a plunger in his day and a name to give the layers chills. Griffin is here at Santa Anita with a small string and when he starts popping down with a few winners, you might remember that you were warned in advance.

Griffin returned to racing after an absence of a few years, chiefly because his son wanted to become a trainer and Griffin was willing to see him started right. He has the stable of Frank Smith at the Arcadia track, headed by Primulus, who measured Indian Broom twice last summer, although getting a huge concession in the weights.

Turning back the page a few years, we find Griffin a champion with young stock, 2-year-olds that the big stables didn't want. Not stake horses, just hard-hitting platers, capable of knocking out a purse now and then.

Griffin has had his own particular formula for success. He attended the eastern yearling sales, purchased sometimes as many as 40 yearlings. Then he headed west for California. He tried his young stock fast, weeded out the ones he didn't want and then got his good ones ready for action. Speed was the keynote because forty thoroughbreds sticking out their heads and dipping them into the feed tubs three times a day causes a terrific amount of overhead.

Instead of having name plates on the stalls or the breeding in brass on the latter, Griffin took a piece of chalk and wrote "stable names" for his 2-year-olds on the stall doors. He named them Bessie, Frankie, Billy and so forth. This served a two-fold purpose. The exercise boys didn't know the names of the gallopers and when he wired his agents in distant cities, he didn't have to expose his

Modesto Comes From Behind To Upset Fullerton

Jack Gardener's barnstorming Modesto Pirates turned back Fullerton's Yellowjackets, 34-28, at Fullerton Saturday night.

After trailing most of the first half, the Pirates moved out in front never to relinquish their lead again. Charles Mangiaracina, diminutive forward, led Modesto's attack with a dozen points, while Ted Neja, one-time Orange county high school scoring king, set the pace for Fullerton with 8.

Modesto held a 23 to 17 half-time margin. (34) Modesto Leitchfuss (2) vs. F. (1) Morton Neja (8) vs. F. (12) Mangiaracina Woodward (5) vs. C. (4) Rickert Schell (2) vs. G. RAY MANGRUM BEATS MANERO

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 2.—(UP)—Ray Mangrum of Dayton, O., won the $2500 Miami Open golf title today in an 18-hole playoff with Tony Manero, National Open champion, with a par 79 against Manero's 73.

The winner of the 18-hole playoff received the $500 first place purse. The loser gets $400.

Manero, who was assigned to the also-rans when he followed his opening 65 with a second-day 74, gave a great exhibition of skill and courage yesterday by storming back over the last 18 holes of the Miami Open to wipe out a three-stroke deficit and tie Mangrum with 277.

Manero and Mangrum were three under par for the 72 holes. Mangrum was consistent, taking 69-67-71-277. Manero started with 65, one over the course record, lost his putting touch and took 74, and closed with 70-68 on the last 36.

COACH BEATTY GLUM AS CAGE RACE NEAR

By DUNCAN CLARK

Holidays over, Santa Ana jays' basketball forces again go into action for their conference schedule, which it fast approaching the deadline.

January 13—a week from Wednesday night—marks the opening of the Dons' Eastern conference hoop schedule. Jesse Mortenson's Riverside champions invade the local court for the inaugural. Santa Ana tackles Fullerton here a week from Saturday night.

Coach Blanchard Beatty, not at all satisfied with the vacation workouts he had scheduled for his basket-flipping artists, was in no mood today to predict anything in the way of a successful season unless the squad shows a different attitude.

Returning to help the situation, however, are Williston, North Dak. musketeers—Bob Cunningham, Ken Marshall, and John Jennison—who spent the holidays with their parents.

Vic Baden's powerful Concordians from Orange mix it with the Dons at Andrews gymnasium Wednesday night. The Concordians have two former Don athletes in their lineup in Walter Gunther and Fred Erdhaus, guard and forward, respectively. Coach Baden has developed some unusually strong basketball teams during the past 10 years and this is considered the best of the bunch. They will be favored to trim the Don cagers rather handsily because they have been playing regularly during the vacation period.

MISSIONS TO TRAIN AT MONTEREY CAMP

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4.—(UP)—The Mission Reds, the Pacific Coast baseball league, will train at Monterey, beginning Feb. 22, Joseph Bonarwald, president, announced today.

PRO FOOTBALL CHAMPS AMONG INVITED GUESTS

The Santa Ana Elks' third annual "Champions' Night" will be held in the B. P. O. E. lodge rooms the night of Tuesday, January 12.

Invitations have been extended numerous celebrities of the sporting world, and the Elks committee—Bill Cole, chairman; Don Jerome, past exalted ruler; and E. S. Sullivan—expects a capacity attendance.

Among the guests will be representatives from the Los Angeles Bulldogs and New York Giants, professional football champions who meet in Los Angeles this month.

Coach Bill Spaulding of U. C. L. A. and Coach Tom Lieb have tentatively accepted invitations, and several of the University of Southern California coaches are expected. Staff men from other Southern California schools also are anticipated.

Santa Ana's champion Dons will attend the function in a body as will members of the Santa Ana High school team. Coaches and captains of all Orange league squads also will be invited, as in the past.

Umpires Leake, Sam Crawford Out In Shakeup

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Umpires Sam Crawford, Hollis Leake were released out-right today as Pacific Coast League President W. C. Tuttle began reorganizing the umpiring staff for 1937.

The public and the club owners like an occasional change in the umpiring personnel. Tuttle said, "I will take any step designed to increase the efficiency of the staff."

'Arky' Vaughan Turns Cageman But Five Loses

Floyd (Arky) Vaughan came out of his winter hibernation Saturday night to play a game of basketball with the Fullerton high school alumni.

The Pittsburgh Pirates' slugger, however, did not keep the Alumni aggregation from being beaten, 23-19, by Glenn H. Lewis' 1937 high school varsity.

Operating a little more than two periods, Vaughan fouled out in the third period. He had been playing with a team composed of his former teammates who in '28 and '29 went as far as the finals in the C. I. F. playoff.

'DIZZY' DEAN TALKS OF PRO GOLF CAREER

FT. MYERS, Fla., Jan. 4.—(UP)—"Dizzy" Dean took a squint today at conditions in the golfing world and decided he would just as soon become a professional golfer as continue on the diamond —that is, unless the St. Louis Cardinals give him the kind of contract he wants to pitch for them again next summer.

The temperamental Cardinal pitcher reflected on the possibilities of golf after helping a Sarasota team defeat a Ft. Myers golf squad yesterday, 22 to 17.

After shooting an 80 on the par-72 course here, Diz said: "If I turn pro I'm going to hire George Jacobs (P. G. A. president) as my coach and manager to polish up rough spots in my game."

L. A. GOLF TO BEGIN ON 4 COURSES WED.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Qualifying rounds for the $8000 Los Angeles Open golf tournament begin Wednesday over four Southern California courses, with price competition scheduled Friday.

The top 30 players from the event held last year and the National Open will be exempted from qualifying, as will past winners of the National Open, P. G. A. championships and National Amateur championships.

The tournament proper will be held over two 18-hole courses at Griffith Park and end with the finals Monday.

Virtually all the heavy money winners of the 1936 season have sent in their entry blanks for the affair, which has been boosted from $5000 last year, including Jimmy Hines, defending champion; Craig Wood, Vic Ghezzi, Johnny Revolta, Ed Dudley, Horton Smith, Harry Cooper, Denny Shute and MacDonald Smith, all past champions.

Panther Squad Entrain For Pittsburgh

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 4.—(UP)—University of Pittsburgh's Panthers, boasting the first Rose Bowl victory in four trips to the Pacific coast, entrained here today at 2 p. m. for the first lap of their journey home.

The team was honored at a luncheon at a moving picture studio today. All members were in good physical condition after their surprise 21-0 victory over Washington in the Pasadena stadium New Year's Day.

SAINTS UPSET REDLANDS FIVE

Tuning up for Friday night's Coast league game here with San Diego's Southern California prep champions of last year, Coach "Tinky" Greene's Santa Ana Saints nosed out Redlands, 22-21, on the Citrus Belt league school's maple Saturday night.

In a preliminary, Greene's sophomore-junior quintet dropped an equally exciting 14-13 decision to the Redlands sophomores.

Instrumental in bringing the Saint varsity its surprise triumph was Captain Sam Lockhart, who from his guard position collected a dozen points for individual scoring honors.

Starting rather slowly, the Saints trailed Redlands, 7-5, in the first period, but moved ahead to take a 14 to 11 half-time lead.

Although Coach Greene spoke of his squad in more than a fatherly fashion, during the intermission, the Redlands contingent moved out in front for a second time, holding a 20-18 edge after the third period. But by holding the home guard to one point, a free shot, the Saints managed to pull ahead and win by a slender one-point margin.

While Redlands used 17 players through the heated contest, Coach Greene used but three substitutes, as most of his reserves made up the "sophomore" group which dropped a one-point decision in the curtain-lifter. Gene O'Campo, guard, led the Santa Ana attack in this game with five points. Mendoza and Gonzales of Redlands, however, took scoring honors with six points each.

The score:

Frank Black's Music On KFI At 7 O'Clock

"The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here."

By HOMER CANFIELD

Hollywood, Jan. 4.—

RADIO WILL BE ON HAND

tomorrow morning to listen to the opening of the 75th congress.

The most likely spot to dial is KECA at 9 a. m., where a two-hour release has been planned.

The Tuesday schedule calls for the swearing in of new members and election of speakers.

President Roosevelt's message is to be delivered in person, takes place Wednesday morning. Again, radio will do its duty. The time will be approximately 10:45. However, more detailed data on that tomorrow.

DR. FRANK BLACK, WHOSE music we rave about from time to time, moves his men into a commercial tonight (KFI, 7)

The show is Carnation Contented program over which Morgan L. Eastman has waved the baton for the past five years.

Eastman will spend the next few months in rest and travel.

The program originates in Chicago. Black has his office—as musical director of NBC—in New York City. Which means that every Sunday afternoon he must plane into the Windy City for conferences and rehearsals Monday afternoon.

Here's a sketch of the musician's background:

Was born in Philadelphia of Quaker parentage. Began musical career as a choir boy, and later took up the piano under the tutelage of the late Rafael Joseffy, famed Hungarian pianist. For a time was an instrumentalist with the Philadelphia orchestra.

Invitations to direct theater orchestras followed. Wrote songs for vaudeville and became coach, arranger and accompanist for the famous Revelers Quartet.

Before joining NBC six years ago, Black acted as general musical director of the Brunswick Phonograph Co., a post that equipped him for the technicalities of radio and eventually for his present position.

An indication of fondness for hard work is seen in assumption of the editorship of a musical publication at the same time that he was devoting most of his attention to orchestra directing.

Work as conductor of the NBC string symphony and the NBC symphony orchestra has won high praise. Work as arranger and conductor of lighter musical programs has made him a popular favorite with radio listeners everywhere. Holds the title of Officer with Palms in the French Academy. Received the degree of Doctor of Music from Missouri Valley college last year in recognition of accomplishments as conductor, composer and arranger.

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 4.—This thing of movie stars buying ownership of prize fighters (broken-down or otherwise) has become epidemic.

Matters have reached the stage, when a star introduces me to a masculine friend I never know whether to extend my hand or throw up my guard.

The monetary angle is secondary to the consuming desire of the sports-minded stars to see their proteges become champions. Never-theless, one or two actors (no doubt blessed with the Midas touch) have coined worthwhills profit on their investments. On several occasions their fighters have packed stadiums to the rafters.

Al Jolson started this craze. His enthusiasm for the ring is practically a passion (wasn't it at a prizefight that Al socked a New York newspaperman?) and he has owned several pugils. His current pride-and-joy is a featherweight who must be rated among the country's ten best.

George Raft, almost as punch-I mean fight crazy (I darn near wrote punch-drunk) as Jolson has a battler under his wing. George is devoting almost as much time to his fighter as to his studio. In other words, George devotes as much time to his reeler as to his reels.

As might be expected (because he goes in for everything), Bing Crosby is a member of the I-own-a-fighter club, as are Mae West, Clark Gable, Groucho Marx and many more. The Crooner manages a young middleweight whom he has piloted into a world's championship. May I interrupt that Crosby has had better luck with his fighter than he had with race horses?

Although suffering from a cold, Shirley Temple managed to do away with an extra heavy studio luncheon. For a person supposedly ill, you're certainly putting away the food. Shirley, who will earn a reputation as a wit if she isn't

ROBERT CURRIE DROPS DEAD IN LOS ANGELES

Funeral services will be held here tomorrow morning for Dr. Robert Currie, 33, who was suddenly stricken and dropped dead, Saturday night in Los Angeles as he was leaving a Broadway restaurant. Dr. Currie, who had been practicing dentistry in Los Angeles, had just eaten dinner and was leaving the cafe when stricken.

Services will be held at 9 a. m. tomorrow from the Brown and Wagner Mortuary chapel with the Rev. A. B. Kelley, pastor of the United Presbyterian church. Interment will be in Fairhaven cemetery.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Currie and was born in Springfield, O., in 1903.

Three years later he came to Santa Ana with his parents. He graduated from the Santa Ana Polytechnic High school and the University of Southern California Dental College.

Upon graduation he started the practice of dentistry in Santa Ana, continuing for 10 years, until his health broke forcing him to close his office.

Recently, with his health regained, he resumed practice in Los Angeles with a large dental firm in the downtown business district and had recently been promoted by the firm.

He is survived by a daughter, Bobby Lou Currie and a brother Arch Currie.

S. A. RIVER IS CONQUERED BY KAYAK PILOTS

BY JOHN NEUBAUER

Paddling your own canoe down the Santa Ana river isn't exactly a pleasant pastime, though a novel one.

It was Thursday afternoon that six Orange county kayak enthusiasts made this startling discovery in the rapids of the Santa Ana river but a cold driving rain storm together with a couple of upsets dampened most of the expedition's enthusiasm.

Leaving the Olive bridge shortly before noon, the party of youthful boatmen progressed famously until they neared the railroad bridge along the 101 Highway cutoff.

It was there that the trouble began.

Rapid cross currents sent the light craft into the "bull rushes" and sent them on a dizzy, speedy course onto numerous sandbanks.

The boats were difficult to navigate and were carried helter skelter by the swift, muddy waters of the Santa Ana. Several of the tiny boats were upset, drenching their crews in the icy cold river.

Rawleigh A. Marsden, commander of the expedition, ran into the most ill luck. He was drenched from head to foot when his craft shot through the rapids, headed into the brush and upset.

"I feel kind of sorry for the old man," one of the boys at the 101

Highway bridge remarked. "His boat sank."

"Yeah," his companion said. "He's all wet, too."

It was Marsden's idea to navigate the Santa Ana river from the Olive bridge to the ocean, but when the expedition got to where the Ocean avenue bridge is being constructed they were willing to call it quits.

Two members of the expedition, Erwin Miller, Fullerton junior college sprint champion, and Merle Miller, a dainty junior college lass, had navigated their light craft to the Seventeenth street bridge where they waited for the remainder of the expedition.

Marsden, wet as a drowned rat, cold and shivering caught a ride to the advance post on a construction truck. His face was blue and his teeth chattered.

"The rest of them are back at the other bridge and are willing to call it a day."

Merle Miller with a blanket covering her wet bathing suit also was ready to call it quits even though she had progressed as far as the husky sprint star, Erwin Miller.

Erwin, however, wasted little time in changing to dry apparel and then headed up the river bank to look for the remainder of the party, which by that time had beached its boats and built a fire on the riverbank to keep warm.

"Who's idea was it anyway?" one of the party asked.

"Why bring that up?" Marsden wanted to know. It was his idea to navigate the Santa Ana river to his mouth.

"When I looked at the river this morning there was plenty of water for smooth sailing," he explained. "The river has apparently gone down considerably."

Regardless of the expedition's failure to make the trip to the ocean, this year's cruise proved more successful than last year's when the party was forced to give up soon after starting.

The party consisting of Marsden, Erwin and Merle Miller, Harold Plummer, Bert Sanders and the two girls, Dorthea Brittain and Merle Miller, proved something; however the Santa Ana river can be navigated, even if it is with considerable difficulty.

SHOP ROBBED DAILY

PORTLAND, Ore., (UP)—Lightning has real competition from Portland thieves. Officials of a cleaning establishment one day found the place had been ransacked and locked it up. A few hours later another official arrived, found it had been robbed again. The next day they found it had been entered the night before for the third time.

THE ROVING CAMERAMAN

By John Neubaer

During the last year the Pan American Clipper ships have blazed a sky trail across the Pacific to the Orient to link another vast frontier with rapid transportation facilities.

The same air line has been flying Clipper ships over the Andes in South America and over the tropical Indies, while British and Dutch services have reached out to all the far corners of the earth.

Comparatively few major accidents have marred aerial transportation. But now and then a sky liner has a mishap.

Domestic airlines have been indeed fortunate. Their equipment—both planes and instruments—are of the very latest and most advanced design. Yet, several tragedies have befallen a number of planes.

The Department of Commerce's strict regulations and prompt probes of all air disasters have done considerable to make flying safe and advance aerial transportation.

In nearly all instances the weather has been a deciding factor in all of these disasters. For some reason the instrument panel has not been sufficient when the ship strays from guiding radio beam in a storm.

Is flying safe? That timely question furnished the Register's Roving Cameraman with today's topic.

THE QUESTION

Do you believe commercial flying is safe?

THE PLACE

Brea.

THE ANSWERS

MRS. OPAL PAQUIN

South Pomona St., Housewife

My answer would be the same as it would have been three weeks ago. Yes, I believe commercial aviation is as safe as any other mode of transportation. Maybe it's safer. While I am not acquainted with the technical phases of flying, I have made a number of trips in planes between Southern California and Seattle to convince myself that they're safe enough. If I had the chance, I'd be on a plane right now. It's the only way to travel.

W. STIVES

South Walnut St., assistant production foreman

Well, from the happenings in the past few weeks it looks kind of bad, but in general I believe commercial aviation is about as safe as most modes of speedy transportation. This recent series of accidents has given aviation a black eye. I am not unduly alarmed over the mishaps. There are hundreds of automobile accidents. Although I don't believe flying is the safest form of transportation, especially in bad weather, I wouldn't hesitate to take a trip anytime.

MERLE MILLER

South Harvard Ave., Fullerton, Student

I guess so. Really, I don't know much about flying, but a vacation seems to be the coming thing. By means of rapid communication new frontiers are opened for business. It is only natural to expect a series of setbacks in the development of a new enterprise. From each of these new ideas will develop. These accidents may help aviation to progress through new discoveries.

S. L. BURGESS

North Pomona St., gauger

Yes, flying is safe, but I believe the railroads are safer. Great things must come from aviation on account of the possibilities of war. The more men trained for flying the better for national defense. Commercial flying depends largely on weather conditions, and the planes

FATE CHANGED ENGINEER TO PHOTOGRAPHER

By JOHN NEUBAUER

Charles William Tresslar wanted to be an engineer. But like so many others he got side tracked along the way.

Not that the La Habra Heights man failed to make the grade. He was an honor student at California till the depression came along and forced him to postpone his thoughts of engineering.

Tresslar thinks it was all for the best now, as it all led up to his present position with the Los Angeles Light and Power Bureau. His job isn't engineering. It's photography.

The young man's curiosity over the little black box, light and shadow all fascinated him. Photography was his hobby. Now it is his job as it was his father's.

His father was staff cameraman for the Los Angeles Times and other leading newspapers.

"I want you to go out and get a picture of this wreck," the elder Tresslar said.

must be developed more before they are safe in storms. Commercial ships should not be allowed in the air during a storm. While I believe there is a lot of room for improvement in flying, I think it is a coming thing and expect to see a lot of developments in this form of transportation.

Tresslar's city editor said. "Pictures don't lie."

"That's what you think," the photographer thought. He got his picture, but in printing the films he made some of them lie just to prove to the editor that a lot of things could be done with a camera. That was quite an accomplishment in those days.

Bill made photography his hobby. He learned the secrets of his camera, took pictures of butterflies, worms and caterpillars. Nothing was too large or too small for him to tackle with his imported camera, one of the first candid cameras to reach this country seven years ago.

Pictures. That was what interested this young man. He'd spend hours, impatiently waiting for a certain effect. He studied light and shadow.

By dear experience he learned the secrets of the camera craft for himself.

After ending his engineering studies, Tresslar continued his work with his camera, shooting all kinds of pictures for his own pleasure.

It happened that he attended one of the Los Angeles camera club meetings, spoke on his experiences with his light box, after which a representative of the Los Angeles bureau approached him.

"He asked me if I'd like to make a business out of my hobby," Tresslar explained.

"Naturally, I wouldn't like anything better."

After waiting several months for the position to materialize, Tresslar finally gave up hope of ever landing such a position to his liking. But when he had just about given up, he received a call to go to work. He did.

Now, the La Habra Heights camera expert is as close to engineering as he might wish, but still finding pleasure in his work which his hobby made possible.

He is shooting pictures of the flood control dams, reclamation projects, aqueducts or anything that the bureau of light and power may have. He is a photographer now, although he never expected to follow in his father's footsteps.

FORUM STARTS ROUND TABLE DISCUSSIONS

The Orange County Forums ushers in its 1937 program with an interesting departure from the usual "one man" talks when Allen C. Blaisdell comes to serve on the Forums from International House, Berkeley, where he has been director for the past nine years, bringing with him three groups of students, Russian, Japanese, Negro and Italian, who will participate in "round table" discussions.

The first team to arrive with Blaisdell, who is scheduled to be in charge of the opening post-holiday meeting at Laguna Beach Union High School, tonight, will be composed of Lamar Archibald, George Rudlak and Abraham Manell. They will form a panel to debate "The American Student's Attitude Toward War and Peace." Throughout the week, this team will appear at Orange Union High School, Tuesday evening, January 5; Wednesday evening at Newport Harbor Union High and at the Fullerton high school, Thursday evening, January 7.

Lamar Archibald, who is a blind student, was an economic major at U. of C. where he was graduated in 1936. He is now working toward a Ph. D.

George Rudlak was born in Moscow in 1915 and came to this country in '21. He was graduated from U. C. L. A. last year and is now working for the law degree at Boalt Hall of Law, Berkeley. Last spring he had the distinction of winning second award in the International House Essay Contest.

Abraham Manell was born in Ostrog in 1912 and came to the U. S. also in '21. At present he is a teaching assistant in the Department of Political Sciences while working for his Ph. D.

Other Forums meetings are as follows: Calvin C. Flint, Dean of Men at Santa Ana Junior College—the second speaker from Orange county chosen for Forum leadership—will speak on "The Receding Crescent" at the new auditorium of the Santa Ana high school, tonight.

Flint's talk will deal with the Near East and reflect his experiences at Istanbul when he was an instructor at Robert College, Turkey, during the winter of 1933-34. Flint will repeat this talk tomorrow evening at Memorial Hall, Huntington Beach.

Homer C. Chaney will conduct the Forum group tomorrow evening at the Anaheim Union High School. His subject "Economic Planning Under Dictatorships" will be a review of the weaknesses and flaws in the systems of economic planning as practiced in Germany, Italy and Russia as a basis for comparison with the so-called competitive capitalist system in this country. In connection with the latter he says: "This 'planless' competitive system has, in America, built up a productive capacity which has given a variety and an abundance of goods never before equalled—higher wages, shorter working hours, longer life and luxuries never dreamed of. However, the adjustments under this system are harsh. Under pressure of over investments, advertising, profits, consumers purchasing power does not keep pace with production, so prices must fall below the cost of production, causing losses of profits, unemployment, waste, destruction of crops, misery and hunger."

All Forum meetings begin promptly at 7:30 p. m. and are free to the general public.

HEARTY RECEPTION IS GIVEN TO NELSON EDDY AT OPENING CONCERT HERE ON SATURDAY

By ELEANOR YOUNG ELLIOTT

That long anticipated opening event of the Behmer-Wilson Artist Series, the Nelson Eddy concert, is now a thing of the past in Santa Ana, but it is merely past, not ended. For hearts and memories will sing with Nelson Eddy for long months to come, so great was the pleasure he gave his audience and so enthusiastic was that audience's response to his matchless voice and to his artistry.

For Nelson Eddy is not just a great singer, he is at the same time a true artist in his ability to paint with his songs, a marvelous picture for his audience's enjoyment. And it is done subtly. Not for him the facial grimaces and the sweeping gestures of lesser artists, but a sidelong look, a quirked eyebrow or the suggestion of a shrugged shoulder, and he has indicated perfectly the mood of his song. This was especially noticeable in French, Russian and German numbers, where his own skilful characterizations made up to his listeners for their unfamiliarity with the words.

Seldom has the local entertainment stage welcomed so composed an artist. His self possession and poise from the minute he steps before the footlights, have the power of inspiring a certainty and repose in the minds of an audience that contribute in no small way, to an appreciation of his art. This same repose of manner was apparent as well in his accompanist, Theodore Paxson, whose fine work at the piano was no small part of the evening's pleasure.

Nelson Eddy's program suggested a rather catholic taste. Or perhaps it rather suggested a desire to appeal to all tastes. He opened his French group with "Bols Evais" (Jean-Baptiste Lully) whose lyric beauty had sharp contrast in the brilliant "Glaire a Vanna" from Henri Fevrier's "Monna Vanna." For his Russian songs (all sung in English with the exception of encores) he chose Rachmaninoff's "Say Not Good Bye," a poignant love song; two extremely individual Dargomizhsky compositions, "The Old Corporal" and "Child's Evening Prayer," and "By the Walls of Kazan" by Moussorgsky. These songs represented a striking variety of moods, the tender love lyric of Rachmaninoff, almost a liturgical effect in "The Old Corporal," whimsical humor and broad farce in the others.

Generous with encores, he gave the request numbers, Moussorgsky's "Song of the Flea," which always popular "In Praise of Lefty Intellect," of quite as caustic humor as "Song of the Flea," and a whimsical "No, No! Don't Do That."

Time of intermission between the song groups was filled very beautifully by Theodore Paxson's piano number, Chopin's "Ballade in F Minor," played with a full appreciation of the beauty of a typical Chopin composition. Appreciation of the audience was hearty and sincere, and the pianist was recalled to take a bow for his masterly work.

During the intermission, Clarence Gustlin, as local manager of the course which is a Musical Arts club project, spoke briefly on the artists to be presented later, and called attention to the reduced rates to go into effect for the remainder of the season. He also asked for opinion as to the possibility of arranging a local date for the San Carlos Opera company, a suggestion which seemed to meet with enthusiasm on the part of those present.

That variety characterizing the opening half of the concert program was maintained after intermission when the artist's German group ranged from "Fruehlingsreigen" by Otto Fleischmann, through "Auf ein altes Bild" (Hugo

PET TALKS

The present American Kennel club was founded in Philadelphia in 1884. It is incorporated under the laws of New York with no stockholders. Its members are not individuals but dog clubs; at present about 250 clubs; the offices are located at 221 Fourth avenue, New York. Dating back to 1884 there have been 1,120,000 dogs registered with this club. About 650,000 are now living. Their estimated value is $60,000,000.

Cats love to sit in windows; they are very fond of looking out moving life. Be sure the windows are screened because cats sometimes fall.

Small bones that splinter, like chicken, turkey and chop, should never be fed to dogs. While thousands of dogs eat such bones with no apparent harm, yet occasionally they will cause great trouble. Why take a chance that can so easily be avoided?

Since the article last week about Cairn Terriers, there have been several calls about this breed. A litter of Cairns was advertised in last week's Register in the classified columns and they are mighty fine puppies and very reasonably priced. They are owned by Lou Pomeroy, 713 South Broadway, who has raised and exhibited Cairns for several years. Her dogs have been shown in all the Southern California dog shows, winning many ribbons and climbing to championship. Miss Pomeroy knows the breed and will be glad to show the puppies to any one interested and will tell all about them.

Perches in bird cages should be parallel. This gives the bird better use of the cage and saves a lot of cleaning.

I have a lovely kitten to give to a good home. Phone 830.

JAMES IRVINE SENDS $2000 TO ART GALLERY

In fulfillment of a promise made in July, 1936, James Irvine has sent to the Laguna Beach Art Association his check for two thousand dollars, matching a similar sum raised by the Association in its drive to reduce the mortgage on its art gallery property. During the Festival of Arts, last summer, Mr. Irvine, long a friend and patron of the association and gallery, undertook to match, dollar for dollar, any sum raised by the group, up to January 1st, 1937. Promptly, the check was forthcoming; and, in expressing thanks to Mr. Irvine, the association announces that only a small balance, expected to be raised during 1937, remains to be liquidated, following which the magnificent art gallery, a landmark of Laguna Beach, will be free of debt.

Announced By Sports Editor

Clever announcement by means of a special "Cupid's Edition" of the Santa Ana newspaper of which Paul Wright is sports editor, acquainted guests at a charmingly appointed tea yesterday afternoon in the John W. Powell home, 172 South Pepper street, Orange, with the impending marriage of Miss Miriam Powell, daughter of the home, and Mr. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Wright, 1008 Highland street, Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. Powell were joined in receiving guests by their daughter and by Mr. Wright and his mother. The senior Mr. Wright is on a business trip to Oklahoma and was not present for the important event in his son's life.

Colorful Scene
The home blazed with holiday cheerfulness expressed in the great clusters of poinsettias that glowed amidst tapers lighting the rooms. The tea table, spread with lace and centered with a mirror plaque to reflect the full arrangement of poinsettias and crimson sweet peas, gleamed with handsome silver appointments including the urns where Mrs. Oswald C. Ulrich of Anaheim, and Miss Thelma Clemens of Monrovia, presided. Mrs. Ulrich is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Powell, and Miss Clemens is a sister student of Miss Powell at Occidental College where both are in their sophomore year.

As guests received their dainty tea napkins, each found a copy of the "Cupid's Edition" in its folds, and thus became acquainted with the romantic nature of the party. The cleverly written story by Betty Cox, of the social department of the Santa Ana Journal where Mr. Wright is sports editor, gave in humorous manner, an account of the activities of the two young people.

Miss Powell plans to continue her studies at Occidental where she is making music her major with a view of preparing herself for teaching. She is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Iota, national music sorority. Mr. Wright, who entered the journalism field at Santa Ana High school, is at Santa Ana Junior college. El Don, was connected with the Register prior to his present post on the Journal.

Many Guests
Many close friends of the two families were invited to the pleasant party planned by Mr. and Mrs. Powell. A guest book was prominently displayed on a flower-garlanded, candle-lit table, and those who took time to sign it included the hosts themselves, their friends, Thomas Powell, and the complimented young people, Miss Powell and Mr. Wright, the latter's brother, Mr. L. A. Wright, his brother, Al Wright, Messrs. and Mesdames M. J. Hulse, Carl Fisher, F. P. Townsend and daughter Jacquelyn, and Mrs. Marah Adams, Santa Ana.

Marriage Vows Spoken
In Home
Of Bride's Daughter

An interesting reversal of custom took place New Year's Eve when Mrs. Mabel Mayfield of Fullerton became the bride of Thomas Du Bois of Dillon, Mont. Mrs. Mayfield chose the date because it was the fifteenth wedding anniversary of her daughter, Mrs. Loran D. Spencer, in whose home at 1201 South Parton street, the ceremony was staged.

The bride was attired in a blue crepe afternoon dress worn with a corsage of pink roses and was attended by her daughter, also gowned in blue crepe. Mr. Spencer was best man.

The living room of the Spencer home was decorated in bridal white with white tapers in candelabra and clusters of white anemones and stock. A large wedding bell was suspended in the white and silver arch where the couple stood to exchange vows.

At a reception after the wedding, the tiered wedding cake was cut and served to the guests, at which time it was announced that the bridegroom and bride would return about the first of March to Dillon where Mr. Du Bois has a large cattle ranch. They will make the trip via Imperial Valley and Yuma, Ariz.

Guests who were former residents of Dillon included Mr. and Mrs. Vern Spencer and son John; Mr. and Mrs. Lorraine Spencer and daughter Hazel of Baldwin Park; Miss Iva Hayward of Santa Fe Springs; Mrs. Luella Hobson who is visiting her son in Fullerton. Others on the guest list included John Mayfield, Miss Verla Keller, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Hobson and son Jay, Mrs. Lettie Keller, and Archie Cook all of Fullerton; Mr. and Mrs. John Reed and son Kenneth, Ralph Spencer, Danny and Sharon Marie Spencer all of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Culp of Baldwin Park; and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Thompson and daughter Nancy Jo of Buena Park.

Tea Guests Surprise
Hostess
With Birthday Gifts

Afternoon tea preceded by games and chatting formed an enjoyable holiday party for a small group of college friends when Miss Geraldine Gilbert entertained Saturday afternoon in her home, 420 South Main street.

Coming as a pleasant surprise to the hostess was the presentation to her of many gifts on the occasion of her 18th birthday anniversary. Tallies on which were printed clever little court figures were distributed for court whist, one of the games of the afternoon.

Tea, poured by the hostess' sister, Miss Eugenia Gilbert, was served with cakes, cookies and candies. Silver balls on red glass formed the mirrored centerpiece at the candlelit table. A tea cart bearing a white bowl of poinsettias and bouquet tapers gave added color to the dining room.

Guests at the party were the Misses Audrey Granas, home from the University of California, Miss Georgia Vise, visiting in Santa Ana during her vacation from U. C. L. A.; June Clark of Scripps College; Elizabeth Lee, also of Scripps; Anne Wetherell, Betty Bradley, Marguerite Pimental, Peggy Paxton, Betty Hammond and Virginia Pritchard, this city.

Mrs. Sultan was Miss Dorothy Carlow, a charming blonde who was especially lovely Saturday in an afternoon gown of Alice blue in which she exchanged wedding vows with Mr. Sultan.

They were married in Santa Ana Wedding Chapel at 2:45 o'clock. Miss Claire Lewbit of Los Angeles was maid of honor, and the bride's brother, Stanley Carlow, served Mr. Sultan as best man.

For the wedding supper, the four young people sought Daniger's where a special menu had been ordered in their honor. Mr. Sultan is in the photo engraving business in Los Angeles.

Following the mid-day nuptial service, the four young people enjoyed a wedding breakfast at Daniger's before the new Mr. and Mrs. Gunderson left for a honeymoon stay at Palm Springs.

New Year's Day Seemed Marked by Friendly
Hospitality

While innumerable Santa Ana homes were thrown open to friends on New Year's Day, many hosts preferred to entertain downtown. One of the most popular of the day was Daniger's where many private parties were in progress both at mid-day and in the evening.

The Misses Mildred and Viola Tummond were among the dinner hostesses there and had Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Fitton as their guests. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mize were hosts at an intimately friendly affair, inviting Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lambert and their daughters, the Misses Barbara and Lucille Lambert, as guests with their own young people, Miss Marjorie and Robert Mize Jr.

At a nearby table was a merry no-host party whose dozen or more members included several out of town friends together with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Winbiger, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Willits Jr. and the George Platts. At adjoining tables were many smaller but none the less enjoyable parties including that at which Dr. and Mrs. John Lucien Wehrly were hosts, another with the Ray Middles and others with Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Kelly. Mr. Robert E. Coulter, Miss June Clark and with Mrs. Laura McNaught, Mrs. McNaught was complimenting Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Russell of Claremont, their son, Paul Russell of San Francisco, and her own son-in-law and daughter, the Sheldon Russells with their small daughter Sharon.

A post-holiday party of much charm which also had its setting at Daniger's, was that at which Miss Virginia Curry was hostess on Saturday. Her guest list comprised an intimate little group of friends, several of whom are returning to college studies elsewhere. Miss Curry, Miss Priscilla Allen of Pasadena, and Miss Winifred Skeels are Santa Ana Jaycee students. Miss Patty Rapp has now returned to University of Indiana and Miss Barbara Davis will leave soon for Berkeley.

Dinner Party Marks
Eighteenth Birthday

Turkey dinner Saturday evening in the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Braden Finch of Orange Heights, honored the eighteenth birthday of Miss Geraldine Gilbert, daughter of Mrs. E. S. Gilbert, 420 South Main street.

The lace covered table carrying out a color motif of yellow and white formed a pretty background for the delicious dinner menu. A bowl of yellow flowers was lighted by yellow candles in silver candelabras.

Parlor games played around a blazing fireplace brought the evening to a happy close. Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Finch were Frank Orr, Mrs. E. S. Gilbert, Miss Eugenia Gilbert and Miss Geraldine Gilbert.

FOR YOUNGER SET

Holiday refreshments, a theater party and other festivities were shared by a group of young people who assembled New Year's Eve in the home of Miss Geraldine Gilbert, 420 South Main street.

Gleaming white linens, appointed with red and blue glassware were centered with bowls of silver balls and white flowers at tables where dessert was served.

The group formed a theater party, and then returned to the home of Miss Betty Hammond, 2024 Victoria Drive, where the New Year was ushered in with traditional horns, serpentine, balloons and paper caps. An informal hour in which the couples danced or sang songs climaxed the holiday evening. Delicious punch and crackers added a refreshing note to the gathering.

Guests at the party were Dr. and Mrs. Bard Daughters and the Misses Audrey Granas, Anne Wetherell, Virginia Pritchard, Caroline Davis, Georgia Vise and Lavonne Franson and Messrs. Harold Wallace, Dick Mather, Roy Potter, Kenneth Oliphant, Robert Forney, Muryl Hallman, Leonard Stafford and Robert Speed.

SCAVENGER HUNT

One of the marriest of the New Years Eve events was that engineered by a group of young people who made their party plans an unusual adaptation of the scavenger hunt idea.

It was in the Milan Miller home, 1509 North Main street, that the party began—and ended. From that point the guests scattered, each to seek amazing "white elephants" and good supplies in any homes where they might gain ingress. Some of those visited were the Wendell Finleys, the Edgar Elstroms, the Dr. Newell Moores, and that of the Roscoe vaded with gayer and good fellowship.

Eventually, armed with the plunder, the whole group convened again with Mr. and Mrs. Miller, there to enjoy a buffet supper of roast bacon and eggs, cheese, marmalade and coffee. Informal bridge play was enjoyed from time to time throughout the evening.

In the party were Dr. and Mrs. Sheldon Russell, Mrs. Newell Moore, Messrs. and Mesdames Milan M. Miller, Chester Horton, Sheldon Russell, Roscoe Conklin, Braden Finch and Calvin Flint.

Marion Graaf
Has Role In
"Floradora"

Leaving today for Los Angeles where she will make her headquarters until after her appearance in "Floradora" this month, Miss Marion Graaf of Anaheim, well known in Southland musical circles, had the good wishes of a host of friends.

Miss Graaf, who has a lovely soprano voice, is rehearsing for the leading role of "Dolores" in the production of "Floradora," which will be presented January 11 and 12 under auspices of Los Angeles Junior Ebbl society. Miss Graaf's current engagements also include her radio programs every Sunday afternoon with Nelson Eddy, well known baritone who gave a concert in Santa Ana Saturday night.

Among Santa Anans who expect to attend one of the two performances of "Floradora" are friends who were assembled recently for a party in the home of Miss Graaf's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Rhoades, 221 East Fifteenth street.

In the group were Messrs. and Mesdames George Lusk, Walter Spicer, Whitford Hall, Lyle Forster, Fred Ferrey, Miss Graaf, Paul Collins and the hosts. Although all of the guests are quite musical, it was Miss Graaf who was called upon to give an impromptu program. Having returned recently from the Orient, she took special pleasure in singing Japanese songs. Also, she sang Russian, Italian and French numbers, with Mrs. Rhoades at the piano. Mrs. Ferrey was prevailed upon to play a piano solo.

Mrs. Rhoades observed a holiday motif in decorations for Italian supper served buffet style early in the evening. Cotoneaster and poinsettias appointed the dining room table, while red tapers gleamed on smaller tables spread with bright-hued linens.

CLUB PARTY

Members of the Musical Notes club, comprising piano pupils of Miss Taressa Koonce, enjoyed a post-Christmas party recently at the home of Mrs. R. E. Jones, 303 East Stanford street. There was a short program by the members, after which they played games. Refreshments of ice cream and Christmas cookies were served. There was also a gift exchange.

Members present were Betty Lou Jones, Ethel May Hazen, Nola Jacobs, Jerry Phillips, Charlotte Plimney, Norma McCaughy, Marian Zaklet, Lorraine Zaklet, and guests Mrs. Jones, Myra Jones, and Marian Jones. Mrs. Jerry Phillips and Nada Lou Phillips.

V. F. W. Auxiliary

Meeting recently for their holiday party, members of V.F.W. auxiliary were entertained with a program of dances from the Vernon Merilyn Getty school of dancing, and a Christmas tree with candy and prizes for all. James Sullivan, commander, was in charge of the program, and Mrs. Irene Squire, who was assisted by Mesdames Tree Pope, Edna McCleary and A. D. Clayton.

OFFICERS RETURN FROM PINE KNOT

A trip, requiring four or five hours longer than expected, brought Detective Lieutenant Charles W. Wolford and Officer Chet Gross out of the San Bernardino mountains Saturday afternoon, after they had been snow-bound—but not "snowed in"—at Pine Knot, Big Bear lake, for three days of vacationing.

It was necessary to make the trip down by way of Victorville because all other roads out were blocked. When the officers entered their cabin, four feet of snow were on the ground. When they left, the snow depth was 8-12 feet, and many cabins were almost buried. They reported. They had to labor vigorously, they said, shoveling snow from the cabin roof to keep it from caving in. Storekeeper Reid, neighbor of the officers while they were in the mountains, was buried to his neck in the snow when the roof of a storehouse caved in, and it was necessary to stage a "rescue party" at once.

Police News

Merle Ledbetter, 22, 506 1-2 South Highland, Fullerton, was confined at county hospital today, suffering from head injuries received when he fell to the pavement while crossing a Fullerton thoroughfare during the week end.

Bert Glenn, 417 1-2 West Pine, Santa Ana, was rushed to county hospital in an ambulance shortly after noon today, after he suffered a heart attack at his home. Glenn, who has been suffering a heart ailment for some months, was reported in serious condition today.

Willard James, 2070 North Bush street, reported to city police last evening that a saddle pony had wandered into his yard and he was holding it for an owner. Poundmaster H. D. Pickering was called in to return the pony and saddle to their owner.

Employees at Chandler's Furniture store, Third and Main, Saturday evening reported to city police that a man had fallen to the street, near the store, and was injured. Officer Harry Pritchard rendered first aid to the man, W. A. Strom, who suffered a gash above his right eye, and escorted him to his home, 122 Orange avenue.

One report to Assistant Chief Harry Fink of Santa Ana police that a girl was being held, assertedly against her will, at 823 East Third, the officer investigated but found only Mrs. Calvin Sutton, resident of Costa Mesa, who, denying she was being held against her wishes, said her husband was to take her to her mother's home soon.

H. T. Warren, 921 West Bishop, reported Saturday that three boys with three air rifles, were endangering persons living in the neighborhood. Detective Sergeant Hunter, investigating, found that the boys were using one good air rifle and two broken ones. "Just use the broken ones, in your play," the officer advised, and the boys agreed to do so.

Because he was begging in the 1900-block of West 17th street Saturday afternoon, an unidentified transient was escorted to the edge of the city and advised by Detective Sergeant Hunter Leach that, if he returned and violated the law again, he would be given "a chance to dry off at the county jail." The man admitted he didn't want to "dry off" at the jail.

GARDEN OF LIFE IS SUBJECT OF SUNDAY TALK

ORANGE, Jan. 4.—Taking for his subject, "Life's Gardens," the Rev. Arthur T. Hobson, pastor of the First Methodist church of Orange, yesterday morning spoke in part as follows: "For our communion meditation, we spend our time this morning in a garden. 'There was a garden at the place where Jesus had been crucified,' our text says, 'and in the garden a new tomb, in which no one had yet been buried.'"

"Think of it! A grave in a garden. Could it be otherwise? Is not every garden a burying-ground? Seeds are buried before they blossom. However, we are not to think of the garden in terms of death but rather of life. For a garden is the workings and power of life. The plant is the finished product of life, life contained in the seed or the bulb that was buried. And the plant is the eloquent testimony of the beauty, the power and the triumph of life over all hindering forces."

"There is a garden in every life. There are buried away in all of us the germs of life. There are hopes, desires; there is the seed of eternal life buried within us all, and simply waiting for the warm, wooling weather of the Spirit of God, to bring it forth unto beauty and blessing."

"This communion service which comes at the very beginning of the new year affords us a wonderful opportunity to investigate our own garden. Fortunate are we if we have planted therein the seeds of eternal life. The plot may look barren and buried there, which seeds are of new life, new hopes, new power. And the flowers which spring up shall be a constant source of wonderment and joy."

PHOENIX OF SPAIN

TWENTY-ONE volumes of epics, sonnets, pastorals, and other forms of verse, and more than 1500 plays, came from the pen of the great Spanish dramatist, Lope Felix de Vega y Carpio, contemporary of the great Cervantes and Shakespeare. Yet this genius had time to take part in an expedition to the Azores and in the decisive battle in which the Spanish Armada was destroyed by the British fleet, and to embroil himself in numerous love affairs.

Lope de Vega produced his dramas and poems in such quick succession that Cervantes called him a "monster of nature." His admirers, however, refer to him as the "phoenix of Spain," paragon of excellence and beauty.

After the death of his second wife, he entered a monastery, continuing to write until his death. When he heard that his son, Lope, had died and his daughter had eloped, it is said he scourged himself so ruthlessly that the walls of his cell became stained with blood. He died in 1635, aged 73, and 300 years later Spain issued a set of stamps in his memory. One is shown here.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up. Your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks lousy.

Calomel is only makeshift. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making you feel better. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 20c

FIRE FIGHTERS FUME AS FANS FLOCK TO FIRES

LAGUNA BEACH, Jan. 4.—Police Chief Abe W. Johnson has issued warning to all fire "fans" to refrain from following too closely on the heels of the equipment of the local volunteer fire department, when alarms are being answered. Whenever the giant siren, at Beach and Broadway, gives its warning howl, cars, cyclists, pedestrians and in some cases equestrians gather around the siren, many times arriving before the first truck, chemical engine, or other fire-fighting units. Then ensues a mad scramble to the scene of the fire, with the result that a heterogeneous assemblage of citizenry clutter up the landscape, making it difficult for the fire-fighters to fire-fight.

All of which, says the genial chief, is undignified, ill-befitting the metropolitan atmosphere of Laguna Beach, and has got to stop. Future violations will result in arrests; in addition to which, parking of cars in too close proximity to the scene of a fire will result in generous distribution of tickets, which will cost their holders at least a couple of bucks to liquidate.

Dogs, five hundred and thirty-eight of which are extant in Laguna Beach, and most of whom attend the small fires, which occur from time to time, will be apprehended by J. Walters, dog-catcher, if found untamed; grace period for pampered pooches expires on January 15, following which a number of the pooches likely to expire in the ornate lethal chamber at the Hotel de Pooch, unless licenses are obtained for them. Law enforcement marches on in Laguna.

Each of the de Forest brothers has the first name "Pearl." As a family they cling to traditions, seldom are outsiders. PEARL PIERRE next. Others at the house are: TAYLOR JOSEPH, the young companion; RAMON VALENTINE and "N. N. GELBER ABREYA, guests at the party; PROFESSOR SHAW, archeologist and JACOB GRAMAM, the salesman stopping at the hacienda until his car is repaired.

The body of Pearl San, placed in the house chapel, disappears. Bob Hensley, Tante Josephine, in a hysterical outburst, accuse each of the remaining brothers of Pearl San's murder.

Later they discover the body of Pearl San has been burned.

Back at the hacienda, the girls with their eyes see if they can learn from him anything about the murder.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XV

AFTER lying awake for hours, trying to fit together the pieces of the puzzle of this strange house and its occupants, Bob finally dropped into a troubled dream in which impending disaster seemed about to grasp him. At last he awoke, relieved to find the gray light of morning streaming through his window. Apparently more snow was threatening. The chilling remembrance of his dream stayed with him, though he tried his best to banish it. But when the breakfast tray had been taken away, he dressed hurriedly and went out to see if he could find Betty. The girl's welfare had become the most important thing in the world to him, and he had to admit she was occupying most of his waking thoughts.

Pearl John, hurrying toward him, brought him "back to the world of reality." "My brother—have you seen him?" he asked.

"No, just got up," Bob answered. "Want me to hunt him up for you? The men coming up from Santa Fe, perhaps?" He looked at his host hopefully.

"They'll probably get here today, but I don't know," Pearl John frowned anxiously. "But the Mexican reported Pearl Pierre had not been in his room all night. I've just come from his study and he's not there, either."

For an instant it was on the tip of Bob's tongue to ask what Angelique knew about Pearl Pierre. Then he decided to wait and see

New H. B. Well Tapped On Wilson Lease

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 4.—The latest well to come in within the new Delaware avenue district is that of "The Petroleum" company on the C. C. Wilson lease. This is one of the best wells on the East Side, producing about 675 barrels of oil and 1,000,000 cubic feet of gas. It is a flower. The oil is 26 gravity and the well is finished in the 4000 foot sand.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wilson, owners of the land are pioneer residents of this city and reside at Ninth street and Ocean avenue. The well at first failed to show any oil and the company worked for more than three weeks before they finally were able to bring in the record producer for the new field.

P. T. A. WILL HEAR ART TALK

SEAL BEACH, Jan. 4.—Artist's expression as it relates to character development will be discussed by an expert authority, Mrs. Evadna Kraus Perry, art supervisor of the Orange county schools, before members of the Seal Beach Parent-Teacher association at their first meeting of the new year, according to an announcement today by Mrs. Marie Ward, program chairman. Following the program refreshments will be served in the domestic science room with Mrs. Raymond Gise, fourth grade room mother in charge.

State Senator In Rush To Take Up Duties

On report of neighbors Sunday evening that a door was open at a home in the 1500-block of East Fourth, Officers Harry Prichard and F. L. Grouard went to the home of Harry Westover, recently elected state senator on the Democratic ticket. It was the door of the Westover home, 1527 East Fourth, which the officers found standing open.

Nothing seemed to be disturbed at the home and apparently the new senator, who left Saturday for his first meeting of the senators, beginning today, had "almost literally" fied the place. But the officers had a remedy. They knocked the door and all is well, both here and at Sacramento.

KEEPING PEACE

When James Hammond became warden of Kentucky's state prison some time ago, he found a big problem on his hands. Enforced idleness had led to a series of disturbances at the institution.

Because of a law preventing commercial use of prison-made goods, Mr. Hammond could not put his 2900 convicts at work to keep them out of mischief. So he tried another idea. He started drilling his prisoners, on a competitive basis, the various squads vying for the distinction of being the best-drilled in the prison. The plan has worked with remarkable success.

This interesting story seems to be analogous to one from abroad. When Hitler became Der Fuehrer, conditions in Germany were turbulent. He, too, began to put his people on a military basis and, by drumming into them the theory that they were a chosen race, strengthened their competitive instinct. And thus far Hitler, too, has been successful.

But there the analogy ends. The principal aim of Hammond's plan, it seems, is to keep the peace.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Two Chicago judges went to the mat the other day on the question of whether marriage "is a 50-50 proposition." Going to the mat probably is nothing new in the lives of Chicago judges, but when one of them declares that marriage should be 60-40 in favor of the working member of the couple, we are inclined to raise our voice in humble challenge of this contention.

Of course, we willingly agree that there are cases, and perhaps many of them, where it should be a 60-40 matter on that basis. It is almost too general a statement to pin down; more or less covering everything but touching nothing. Be this as it may, we are still in the field to maintain that regardless of individual opinion on the issue, the most important thing to consider in marriage still is just good old common sense.

In most instances, marriages must be treated like individuals. Each matrimonial bond carries with it its own singular aspects that could not possibly be compared with another, let alone be generalized. Therefore, we'll stick to the common sense theory, and add that a little "give and take" on both sides might add to happiness in marriage.

A GREAT UNDERTAKING

We have no means of checking, but we do not think it impossible that there are some persons, who by a strange process of reasoning, might point to the marooning of Orange county Boy Scouts by snow in the San Bernardino mountains, as an argument against membership in the Scouts.

Unreasonable arguments have been used on more than one occasion in more than one field of endeavor, and there is no reason to believe they will not be brought to play again.

Underlying principles of scouting are among the soundest for the development of self-reliance in youth and building of character. By far the great majority of Scout leaders are men of unusually bright foresight, having the highest ideals and are natural born assistants to youth.

To point to the Scout's slight difficulty in their mountain camp as an argument against the movement, is like pointing to the injury of a football player as a good reason to halt the game. These ideas could be developed almost indefinitely.

Let it suffice to say that the element of chance lies in every enterprise, whether it is individual or collective, and we merely want this opportunity of expressing the firm conviction that scouting is one of the greatest and best undertakings of its type in the world today.

WE OWE DEBT TO OUR FORGOTTEN AMERICANS

So many biographies are being printed these days that you'd hardly think any American of the slightest importance had been missed by the men who write life histories for the reading public.

But it does happen. Indeed, the biographers have barely scratched the surface. For proof, consider the fact that the twentieth volume of the Dictionary of American Biography has just been printed—an eight-year job, containing brief stories about more than 13,500 past and present Americans whose lives were significant enough to deserve preservation in history.

And it is an odd thing, considering the fact that each of these persons contributed his or her share to the shaping of the nation, to reflect that there are thousands of people in this vast dictionary of whom most of us never heard before.

Who, for instance, was Hannah Adams? Who was Ohio Columbus Barber, and what did he do that affects your life today? Who was William A. Bullock, and how does his life work influence your own existence? Who were Thomas Fitzpatrick and Leslie K. Keeley and Francois Prevost?

They're worth finding out about. Hannah Adams, for instance, was the first American woman to make writing a profession; she helped, in other words, to pave the way for people like Willa Cather and Edna Ferber and Dorothy Thompson and Edith Wharton.

Ohio Barber used to peddle hand-made matches from door to door; he wound up as founder of the great Diamond Match Company, and the next time you strike a match to light a cigaret or start a fire on the hearth, you might reflect that Ohio Barber helped make the job easy for you.

William A. Bullock invented the high-speed printing press, and you can't escape from his influence if you read a newspaper. Fitzpatrick was a trapper and Indian agent whose name might well rank beside Kit Carson's. Keeley devised the method of treatment and rehabilitating drunkards, which bears his name to this day. Prevost performed the first Caesarean sections in medical history.

Those names are only a few random samples from this dictionary. And it is interesting to reflect how much of the important work of the world gets done by people like these—people whom fame somehow misses, who either are ignored entirely by the history books or cut down to a few lines, but who nevertheless helped to create a different world for the people who came after them.

Fame is capricious. Popular biographies go to the interesting persons, but not necessarily to the important ones. Of that great debt which we owe to the past, a substantial part—perhaps even a major part—is due to the unsung men and women who got no reward in history.

MONUMENTAL EVIL

In a recent broadcast, Bernarr Macfadden said, profit in politics is the monumental evil which confronts the country. "The rocks of destruction of our government are not far ahead if this monstrous evil is allowed to continue indefinitely."

Benjamin Franklin foresaw this danger and in June, 1787, introduced in the Constitutional Convention an amendment relating to the executive departments of the government which read: "Whose necessary expenses shall be defrayed, but who shall receive no salary, stipend, fee or reward whatsoever for their services". Franklin recognized that unless the new Republic was led by men who had the idea that public service was a patriotic duty, there could not be much future for the country.

The wisdom of this suggestion of Franklin's is now evidenced when we see men with little talent seeking jobs with great responsibility and requiring great foresight simply because of the financial reward. Look at the congressmen of the United States today! At least few of them could earn any ways near what they are getting as salary and fictitious expense accounts. They do not seek the office because of their desire to make a patriotic sacrifice but their desire for profit. On the subject, Franklin said: "Place before the eyes of such men (that is, those motivated by ambition, avarice and love of power) a post of honor that shall at the same time be a place of profit, and they will move Heaven and Earth to obtain it."

The truth of this statement is evidenced by the fact that the men will promise most anything to everyone in order to get the job. Society as a whole is paying the results of foolish laws we have had restricting and restraining production penalizing initiative, rewarding inefficiency and catering to those who believe wealth can be created by laws.

HEALTHY SIGN

In an Oklahoma courtroom, recently, a high-salaried oil company executive sat with 11 other jurors, at $3 a day, to hear a chicken-stealing case. And a court official of the city points out that such attention to a civic duty is becoming less unusual.

"A few years ago," he reveals, "men of large affairs avoided jury service, but in recent months we have had a number of prominent men on juries."

If this trend is noticeable in other cities, also, it would be interesting to learn just what is responsible. It is possible that in hectic boom days these men subordinated their duties as citizens to the pursuit of profits; and that the common struggle through hard times revived their sense of responsibility to their fellow citizens.

In any event, the trend is, as the official pointed out, "a healthy sign of revived interest in government, and an excellent example for the community."

CONTINUE TO GIVE

An analysis of American charity, just completed by a New York committee for religious and welfare recovery, reveals a very striking and significant fact.

The highest percentage of giving that has ever been recorded was attained during the depression year of 1932. And during 1935, the year in which recovery began to set in, a new low in American generosity was reached.

On the surface, it seems odd that people are more inclined to aid others when they are least able; and yet, perhaps, it is only natural. It may be only when suffering and distress are widespread and brought home to them personally, that people really can sympathize with the plight of their fellow citizens.

If the return of good times is to benefit all, Americans must keep constantly alive to the needs of unfortunates.

The speaker might have said: "If you have not kept pace with the development of aviation, you would never know how high we are flying."

Editor Register:

There seem to be two intensely interesting subjects which men may zealously discuss without any previous preparation whatever. Law, medicine, mathematics; in short any of the scientific or philosophic studies—demand the burning of midnight oil.

But, Theology and Economics! Well, of course, they are different!

We all know all there is to know about them anyway. Any rustic who never read a book of the Bible or a line of Smith, Ricardo or Mill will glibly discourse on the shortest route to Heaven or the solution of all the economic ills that humanity is heir to. This of itself would not seem so strange, but even they who lean to the view that these subjects also require some study are prone to believe that because a man has attained to some eminence in one of said fields, he must, as a matter of course, be of equal authority in the other also. This thought, Mr. Editor, is inspired by a recent contribution of the Rev. Geo. A. Warner to the Register's Clearing House, in which he postulates what he terms, "some very stubborn facts to be faced;" (five in number) every one of which has been refuted times without number by practically every economist of repute from the French Physiocrats to the present day. This contribution of mine, however, is not for the purpose of controverting his economic fallacies, nor yet must it be construed as in any sense a reflection on the acknowledged superior attainments of Dr. Warner, for whom as a man and a minister I have great admiration.

I refer to his economic view only as a quasi justification for this, my own rash venture into the labyrinth of theology, when I am manifestly as far from home as the preacher is when floundering in the bogs of political economy. While my enthusiasm for his economic ideas is not difficult to restrain, I again affirm, in all sincerity, that for Rev. Warner as a thinker I have the profoundest respect; but I do assert the same right to discuss his theological views that he exercises when he invades the economic field.

Although most of the world's recognized religious leaders have not been eminent economists—probably because they had no time to devote to the subject—yet, beyond all question, the greatest of all human religious leaders was undoubtedly the greatest of all political economists; and if bewildered statesmen groping confusedly for light, would devote just a little intelligent consideration to the economic principles embodied in the Mosaic "year of Jubilee" and apply such principles to the perplexing problems confronting them today, not of course in the literal application, adapted to social conditions thirty-five hundred years ago, but modified to meet twentieth century conditions, they might find such perplexing problems easier of solution.

General HUGH S. JOHNSON

HOBCAW, S. C.—The winter holocaust of ships and passengers in the air lines is on again—not only among the big commercial ships, but to an astonishing extent among big Army bombers. A winter before this witnessed a great slaughter of inexperienced Reserve Army pilots suddenly and unnecessarily drafted into the perilous job of piloting the mails over unknown wintry topography designed by nature to wreck ships. This column beat the tom-tom on that subject until it became monotonous. The noise was not made about the accidents themselves, but about the official mystery about the accidents. Sometimes it may not be possible to find out exactly what cracks up a great ship when there are no survivors and the wreckage is reduced to ashes and skeletons of fused metal—sometimes, but not always. There has not been one important smash-up about which airmen did not seem to be pretty well agreed among themselves—officially—on the cause. But few such opinions ever found utterance in official reports—a repression of sufficient extent to justify the suspicion of a ponderous hush-blanket over the whole subject.

The Copeland Committee seemed to start with blood in its eye over the death of Bronson Cutting. It went in like a lion and came out like a lamb. It made some yes-and-no findings and soft spoken recommendations. None of these seems to have resulted in any action effective enough to prevent a new and fiercer epidemic of disaster and sudden death far worse than anything we have seen before, and certainly not effective enough to disclose to the public the cause and responsibility in these disasters. Meanwhile the ballyhoo about increased safety in the air becomes more blatant and the certainty of decreased safety becomes more obvious.

Now the assistant to the inflexible Danny Roper, Secretary of the Department of Commerce, where official responsibility resides, announces that he is going to hold a "safety conference at an early date."

Early Hell! Why didn't he hold it ten months ago when it was just as apparent as it is now that something was rotten—rotten enough to stir up the Senate to appoint a special committee—and when the facts of crash after crash were suppressed leaving the conclusion that something was bad enough about them to make it necessary, for somebody's political sake, to hush them up?

"We are confident," he writes to Eddie Rickenbacker, "that as funds and facilities are made available for the improvements we already have in mind for our navigation facilities, it will be possible to eliminate at least 75 per cent of the type of accidents we have experienced in the past."

Can you beat it? Major air disasters occurring at a recent rate of more than one a week, and an admission of the Department of Commerce that it could have eliminated 75 per cent of them—if funds and facilities had been available.

This is written away from my office. References and statistics are not available. But the money Harry Hopkins has spent (out of his lump sum relief appropriations) for the improvement of air navigation has been very large. I realize that he prefers to spend it where it will make more work than improving weather service and installing and operating radio equipment and various other suggestions by Eddie Rickenbacker. But, if 75 per cent of aircraft catastrophes could have been prevented, that was an emergency and not only Harry Hopkins but several other departments could and would have hopped to it until Congress assembled—if anybody had made that kind of statement before these disasters occurred.

Furthermore, most recent air accidents have resulted from flying in bad weather relying on facilities for blind flying now admitted to be insufficient. The preventative of that was departmental regulation of such flying.

Like Cato's invariable peroration demanding that Rome get rid of Carthage, the conclusion from many approaches to the Department of Commerce is, delenda est Danny.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

"EDUCATING THE WHOLE MAN"

The other day I took issue with my distinguished colleague, Mr. Hutchins, the president of the University of Chicago, in his contention that the sole direct objective of college and university training should be the cultivation of the intellect.

The business of education, I insisted, is to train the total human being for effective participation in the civilization of his time.

To do this education must deal with the emotional as well as the intellectual side of men's lives.

It must discipline and develop the character as well as the mind. It must prepare men to act creatively as well as understand clearly.

It must help men to develop and sustain a rich physical vitality.

It must strive to free men from irrational fears.

It must cultivate courage in the spirit of men.

It must sensitize men to the point of constructive sympathy.

It must nurture the urge to create as a substitute for the urge to destroy.

It must establish a sense of justice in men.

It must give men something approaching a coherent insight into the forces that are making, unmaking, and remaking their world in this generation.

In short, the business of education is as wide as life. It is this that makes education so fascinating a field for men concerned with making life richer.

OUR CHILDREN

BY ANGELO PATRI

SIDEWALK MANNERS

Jimmie had a good home and a fine father and mother who gave him the best possible care as far as food and clothing and house-keeping and schooling were concerned, but they thought that making him manners was being too nice about the rearing of a boy. Jimmie gathered from the few words he heard dropped on occasions of family discussion, that his manners did not bother his good father and mother any, and to him that meant it was smart to be crude.

Going down the street on the way to the grocery store Jimmie carried a lath he picked up. He brandished it about like a long sword. He skittered it along the stone pavement so that ladies had to hop out of its way. He swung it at boys he knew, knocking off their caps, whacking them as they passed him. He poked it into the fruit stand and sent the oranges rolling hither and yon and laughed to see the grocer scrambling about to rescue them. He poked the butcher's cat and sent her flying out of the door, and the dog next door went after her. Jimmie laughed uproariously. Such fun!

Scowls followed Jimmie as he went his happy way.

"That's about the worst behavior I had in this town. It's a wonder my father and mother don't tend to him. They're decent sort of folks. One of these days somebody is going to give him something he will remember them by. Sure as he lives."

And, of course, somebody did. Jimmie went along the street with a red crayon marking every fence, ash can, door post, stone coping and pavement with crosses and stars and pictures of strange creatures intended to resemble his foes, who were many. He was engaged in decorating the twin gate posts of Miss Ellen's place when she came along. She took him by one ear, yanked him toward her, took off her slipper and warned Jimmie well. A group gathered, friends of Miss Ellen, and applauded her efforts. They sent Jimmie on his hurried way with "You been asking for it, young one. You got just what you deserved. Maybe you will learn now."

Jimmie's good father and mother were horrified. They had no idea that Jimmie could do such things. The stories poured in thick and fast in defense of Miss Ellen's action.

"Why did you do such things? Didn't you know any better? Is that what we have been teaching you?"

Jimmie felt betrayed at home and abroad, and perhaps he had been. Only Miss Ellen had truly expressed her feeling about his manners. The others had been siding with him. He had been progressing in bad manners.

Children are not naturally when they know and use only the external of good behavior. "Excuse me," "Please," "Sorry," "Thank you," are not enough. There must be the spirit of good manners within them and that comes through good example, much teaching, much practice. A child who was reared to express good feeling and kindness and consideration toward all he met would not make his appearance a signal for scowls and hard words. He would carry himself with a manner, and that is the true aim of good manners.

Little Benny's
Note Book

BY LEE PAPE

After school I went back to the kitchen to see if I was rite about thinking there wasn't any apples left, which I was on account of me having took the last one to eat on the way to school, and just then ma started to come downstairs, saying, is that you, Benny, I want you to run around to the store and get 2 pounds of sugar and a loaf of bread and a cake of east.

We're out of apples, too, ma, I said, and she said, No wonder, with you knowing at them morning noon and nite like a proverbial rabbit. It's high time to call a halt to this perpetual apple eating, she said.

Well G, ma, a apple a day keeps the doctor away, I said, and ma said, That's no excuse for one continuous apple every time a person looks at you. How many doctors are you trying to keep away? she said.

All of them, I said.

Benny, a good answer, and I said, And anyways, ma, anyways, you heard about grate athlets that dont dast to stop exercising because their harts and lungs would be libel to shrink if they did, and I'm a grate apple eater so why wouldn't my stummick be libel to shrink if I all of a sudden stopped eating apples?

My grocer bills would shrink, I can clarify you to that extent, ma said, and I said, And besides, ma, didn't you ever hear that apples make the teeth nice and white?

No, did you? ma said, and I said, No, mam, but I bet they do, what do you want to bet, ma?

I'm not in a betting mood and for land sakes get a couple of pounds of apples if you feel so strongly about it, I suppose you could eat worse things, ma said, and I said, Sure I could, ma, do you want me to name you some?

If you're not off on that errand in 30 seconds, I'll cancel the apple part, ma said, and I said, I'm off.

Which I was.
